FISHERMAN IS SHOT IN CLASH WITH WARDENS

B. M. Boyer is Wounded, Bullet Knocks Out Teeth, Grooves Tongue. Comes Out Back of Head in Battle

SHOT GRAZES SHOULDER OF SON; NEPHEW SHOT AT, TOO

Viroqua and DeSoto Game Wardens Confiscate Floating Trammel Net

B. M. BOYER, a commercial fisherman of Hyman's, Iowa, was shot through the mouth, a bullet grazed the shoulder of his son, and another bullet passed through the shirt, just missing the stomach, of his nephew, as a result of a clash Sunday evening between the fishermen and two Wisconsin game wardens, Curtis Viroqua and Hecock of De Soto.

Boyer was brought to St. Francis hospital, this city. He will recover. Boyer was shot by Curtis, he alleges, the bullet knocking out two front teeth, cutting a groove along the top of his tongue and coming out at the back of his head, missing the spinal column by a fraction of an inch.

Boyer says that he was fishing on the Iowa side of the Mississippi and that he is licensed in Iowa to fish. Boyer, his son, Floyd, and nephew, Tony Cunningham, had run out a floating trammel net, about Harper's date and were at the end of the end which was below the chute. They could see two men in a boat taking in the net and when they got near enough to the strangers, an argument ensued, which resulted in the shooting.

The game wardens, after the shooting, gathered up the net and left. Boyer and the two boys to get home the best way they could, according to Boyer's charges. He was brought to La Crosse by Jack Leuth and Jess Mondak of Hyman's.

AMERICAN VALUATION PLAN IS TARGET OF ATTACK OF CAPPER

Kansan Declares Proponents are Trying to Deceive the People

FAVORED BY THOSE WHO SEEK EXCESSIVELY HIGH PROTECTION

Manufacturers Want Favored Position Over Foreign Goods

WASHINGTON.—American valuation again was brought into debate Sunday afternoon in the Senate, Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, chairman of the senate agricultural bloc, charging that "the most zealous advocates" of this system desired it because they believed that by it they could "conceal from the American people the extent to which they desire to raise rates."

"In effect," he said, "they admit they are seeking rates so high as to be unpopular; that they are endeavoring not to represent the will of the people, but to feel the pulse."

Senator Capper predicted that the "real propaganda" for American valuation was coming in spite of the action of the senate finance committee in abandoning it for the foreign valuation, and that it would be launched by those who "desire excessively higher protective duties on manufactured articles." He added that manufacturers were not content with tariff rates that would equalize their position in competition with foreign producers but desired "an exclusive position in the American market."

To support his argument that American valuation would conceal the amount of protection accorded, the Kansas senator presented some figures from the valuation report of the finance committee in which house bill rates were converted to the basic rate of foreign values. These showed:

Quota Example.—Eighty-one items of the chemical schedule, Underwood bill, 16 percent; Payne-Aldrich, 18; senate bill 33, and house bill 7.

Seventy-eight manufactures of wool, Underwood 35 percent; Payne-Aldrich 57; senate bill 51; house bill 78.

Eighty-seven items of silk schedule, Underwood 44; Payne-Aldrich 52; senate 55; house 83.

One hundred and twenty-hour items of schedule, Underwood 16; Payne-Aldrich 28; senate 28; house 38.

One hundred and thirty-seven items of wool schedule, Underwood 12; Payne-Aldrich 18; senate 10; house 41.

Senator Capper asserted that if American valuation was to be used to conceal undue increases in protective rates it would become clearly a "bunco game" at the expense of the farmer because it would not apply to his products, the rates on which would be specific and not based on value while its use would increase the price of many products which he uses.

Would Limit Exports

"Again," he continued, "American valuation, by increasing the height of the tariff wall, would limit the exportation of agricultural products in exchange for manufactured goods bought in foreign countries. Many of our agricultural products are on an export basis and the tariff will not help the producers of these products except under exceptional conditions and on special grades. If, in addition to this, the power of foreign countries to buy the products of our farms is limited by a tariff which prevents our people from buying on a fair competitive basis the manufactured articles of the highly industrialized countries of Europe, the plight of agriculture will be even worse than it is at present."

U. S. WON'T JOIN BRITAIN IN PROBE OF TURK ATROCITIES

WASHINGTON.—Indications were given at the white house Tuesday that the United States would not accept the invitation extended by Great Britain to investigate atrocities by the Turks on the Christian minority in Asia Minor as reported by the American Relief administration.

PEACE COMMITTEE REPORTS TO IRISH DAIL ON WEDNESDAY

DUBLIN.—By The Associated Press.—The peace committee of the dail eireann, which has been engaged in efforts to find a basis for unity of the Irish factions has concluded its deliberations. It was officially announced Tuesday afternoon. The report will be presented to dail Wednesday.

MRS. MURPHY CAMPS AT JAIL TO AWAIT HER SON'S RELEASE

CHICAGO, Ill.—Mrs. Tim Murphy, mother of "Big Tim," labor leader who is in the county jail under indictment in connection with the murders in the recent disorders termed a labor war by the police, has placed herself at the jail entrance and declares that she will stay there until Tim is released.

Warden Westbrook met her at the door when he came to work Tuesday morning.

"Good morning, Mrs. Murphy, aren't you a bit early?" asked the warden.

"I've been here all night and I'm going to stay until you let my boy out of your dirty jail," she replied.

A few days ago she pushed over two policemen in trying to get into Chief of Police Fitzmorris' office to plead for her son, but was stopped by a third. She hit one with an umbrella.

LINK UP "BIG THREE" WITH BOMBINGS AND MURDERS IN CHICAGO

Police Claim Evidence Incriminating Murphy, Shea and Mader

BARTENDER IS IDENTIFIED AS DRIVER OF MURDER CAR

Four Men Held as Slayers of Two Policemen

CHICAGO, Ill.—Evidence distinctly connecting bomb throwers and the slayers of two policemen with the "Big Three" Chicago labor leaders, was claimed Tuesday by police and state's attorneys who have worked indefatigably since Terence Lyons, acting lieutenant, and Thomas Clark, patrolman, were shot down a week ago after two buildings had been dynamited in the so-called labor war.

Four men have been identified positively as the slayers of the policeman, and three of them have confessed, police said, while John Miller, bartender, owner of the car from which the fatal shots were fired, has been identified as the driver through the bloody finger prints on the automobile door. Two men who rode with him were arrested when they applied for medical aid, the police said, one having a body wound and the other a bullet through the shoulder. Under questioning they broke down, police said, and one made a complete confession. Miller himself confessed early Tuesday under constant questioning, police said. He was removed to an outlying police station because of an attempt to poison him. Police said one dish brought from a restaurant contained a quickly acting poison.

Involve "Big Three"

Through these alleged confessions and other information, according to the authorities, evidence has been gathered to connect the work of the bombers and killers with "Big Tim" Murphy, head of the gas workers' and street sweepers' union, former member of the state assembly and congressional secretary, "Con" Shea of the Chicago Building Trades Council. These men, called by police "The Big Three," with five others, are held without bail under murder indictments in connection with Lyons and Clark's deaths. They have maintained innocence since their arrest a week ago.

Chief Judge Scanlon of the criminal court, will render a decision Tuesday on the plea of attorneys for Murphy and Mader that their cases be assigned for immediate trial.

Murphy is quoted as having said he regards himself as being made the "goat" and is through with Chicago labor organizations. He said he probably would leave Chicago as soon as he gets out of his present troubles. He is under prison sentence for complicity in a $400,000 mail robbery.

INSURANCE FIRMS SEEKING MISSING SAILSTAD STENO

Claim Man Said to Have Been Burned to Death Elope With Girl

WIDOW SUING FOR SIXTY-FIVE THOUSAND IN LIFE INSURANCE

Location of Stenographer Would Clear up Case, is Belief

SUPERIOR, Wis.—Special agents for insurance companies which have been sued for $65,000, the amount of life insurance carried by E. J. Sailstad, Eau Claire manufacturer, whose wife alleged he lost his life in a cabin fire at Lake Nebagamon on the night of August 27, 1920, announced today the inauguration of a nation-wide search for Dorothy Anderson, Sailstad's stenographer.

The companies will claim when the damage suit comes to trial, that the damage was caused by Miss Anderson, after placing human bones in the cabin, which was fired.

A pathologist at the University of Wisconsin last week declared the charred bones to be those of a man of small stature. Sailstad was described as "a man of medium build."

The damage claim is being pressed by Mrs. Leona Sailstad-Richardson, a resident of Eau Claire. The case is scheduled to be tried during the September term of court here.

Representatives of the insurance companies are confident the baffling case would be cleared up immediately if the missing stenographer could be found.

CAR TAKEN BY HIGH SCHOOL RUNAWAYS IS FOUND IN MADISON

MADISON, Wis.—The automobile owned by C. E. Kellogg, Wisconsin Rapids and supposed to have been used by three youthful runaway high school pupils of that city, was found here Tuesday, minus occupants, police say.

Antoinette La Blond, 17; Thelma Young, 16, and Orville Shultz, 16, all of the Wisconsin Rapids high school, are believed to have been occupants of the machine which carried them away from their homes and studies.

The three are reported to have decided that school was too irksome and to have started off in the automobile owned by Kellogg, on last Saturday night.

DECISION SURPRISES GENOA

POWERS HAD BELIEVED U.S. READY TO JOIN

Keen Disappointment Expressed in Conference Circles Over American Refusal

MAY ABANDON PLANS FOR JUNE CONFERENCE AT THE HAGUE

Believe Lack of U. S. Participation Resulted in Failure of Genoa Meeting

GENOA.—By The Associated Press.—The entire Russian delegation attended Tuesday's meeting of the political sub-commission, Foreign Minister Tchitcherine, head of the delegation, asked a number of questions concerning the details of the proposed meeting at The Hague, and upon his request the Russians were granted twenty-four hours in which to frame a reply to yesterday's proposals concerning this meeting. The sub-commission then adjourned until tomorrow.

Among Mr. Tchitcherine's show-ers of questions concerning The Hague gathering was why Germany was excluded. He was told that Germany's separate treaty with Russia made it unsatisfactory for her to participate.

GENOA.—By The Associated Press.—Foreign Minister Schauer of Italy, on learning Tuesday that the United States would not join the proposed commission on Russian affairs at The Hague, expressed great surprise, especially at the rapidity with which a decision was taken, which may have great influence on the further discussions at Genoa.

Great disappointment at the American decision was expressed generally in conference circles, as the belief had gradually been forming here that the United States was ready now to join the other powers in dealing with Russian economic problems.

Surprised Over Refusal

The surprise caused by the declaration was accentuated by reason of a statement the Italian press attributed to Ambassador Child, quoting him as saying to Foreign Minister Schauer that the U. S. would probably accept an invitation to The Hague on condition that the powers bind themselves not to conclude separate agreements with Russia while the Hague commission was sitting, and that the decisions of the commission be referred to the respective governments for final action.

May Kill Hague Meeting

When the news of the American declaration got abroad it became at once the topic of the day, among all the conference delegates. The opinion generally expressed was that American absence from The Hague might kill that meeting as the refusal of the U. S. to participate at Genoa was, in the eyes of many of the delegates, the chief reason for the failure of the conference here to achieve results.

Must Seek New Methods

It was remarked that the government at Washington in refusing the invitation to join the mixed commission at The Hague implied a belief that the powers would be confronted there with the same insurmountable difficulties as at Genoa and that therefore, other means must be found for solving the Russian problem as well as meeting the dangerous European political and economic situation.

Must Reduce Expense

Those among the delegates here who were participants in the Washington arms conference have reiterated their conclusion that America believes the salvation of Europe can only come by each country earnestly setting to work to restore her finances by balancing her state budget and this can only be done by reducing expenses, especially limiting armament.

GOVERNMENT TO FIGHT INCREASE IN COAL PRICES

WASHINGTON.—Steps are being taken by the government to forestall tendencies towards prices of bituminous coal at the mines, it was said Tuesday at the white house. Secretary of Commerce Hoover has the matter of investigation in his charge, it was said.

U. S. REFUSAL NOT FINAL IS BELIEF OF LLOYD GEORGE

GENOA.—By The Associated Press.—Prime Minister Lloyd George does not feel, it was indicated Tuesday afternoon, that the American refusal to participate in the commission at The Hague in Russia affairs is her final word, as the document indicates great American interest in Russia's economic reconstruction and the reply is regarded as one forming a basis for further correspondence.

COUNCIL OF LEAGUE REFUSES TO DISCUSS RUSSIAN QUESTION

Norway's Request for League Inquiry Into Russo Conditions Referred to Genoa Meeting

GENEVA.—By The Associated Press.—The council of the league of nations refused Tuesday to take up the Russian problem, and referred to the Genoa conference the Norwegian government's request for an immediate inquiry into the Russian situation in Russia and the effect of the famine on economic reconstruction in Europe.

Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, who presented the Norwegian government's request, and who is the league's high commissioner for Russian relief, fought hard to prevent the question going to Genoa. He said handing it to Genoa was equivalent to burying it.

Marquis Imperiali of Italy protested this, saying he was confident the conference at Genoa would give the question fullest consideration.

Dr. Nansen, however, insisted that the Genoa conference was about to break up, without, according to the press reports, having solved the Russian problem.

SOLDIERS GROVE AUTO DRIVER PAYS $52.50 FINE HERE

Runs Down J. W. Tubbesing on Bicycle Near Fifteenth and Main Streets

Victor Lake, Soldiers Grove, was fined $52.50 in police court here Monday morning when he pleaded guilty to a charge of operating his Ford roadster in the city while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. S. Hooverson, his partner, paid $7.50 on a charge of intoxication.

In driving out Main street Monday evening about 6:30, Lake ran down J. W. Tubbesing, riding a bicycle near Fifteenth and Main streets, according to testimony in police court. Tubbesing was not injured. When the police arrived Lake was sitting in the car in front of the Grandview hospital, while Hooverson was picked up at Eighteenth street, near the railroad tracks. Both were intoxicated, police said, and were held at Central station over night.

ASK GOVERNMENT TO TAKE OVER POWER PROPERTIES ON FOX

NEENAH, Wis.—A demand has been made of the U. S. war department by representatives of land owners along the Wolf river that the government take over water power interests on the Fox river and operate them.

It is demanded that these interests be compelled to pay the government $600,000 to reimburse the government for money paid to riparian owners for damages according to their lands through the recent floods, and that the war department be ordered to set a new level for navigation at the dam at Menasha.

These resolutions have been filed with Congressman Lampert and riparian owners expect to back them up emphatically with their indorsement at the meeting to be held at Oshkosh this week.

MERELY GENOA MEETING UNDER ANOTHER NAME

Same Difficulties Will be Met at The Hague if Russian Attitude is Not Changed Says Hughes Note

HOOVER SETS FORTH VIEWS OF ADMINISTRATION ON RUSSIA

Says Problem Must be Approached from Practical Standpoint

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The American note of Monday declining to participate in the proposed meeting at The Hague next month for discussion of Russian conditions was intended to leave the door open for further conversation, it was said Tuesday at the White House.

Beyond this confirmation of the interpretation placed on the state department's communication by Premier Lloyd George, no comment on the situation at Genoa or the American attitude toward participation in discussions on economic conditions in Russia was made.

WASHINGTON.—The United States government having removed Tuesday the last possible doubt as to the finality of its decision not to participate in conferences on the European economic situation of the Genoa type, officials here waited with interest the next move of the powers attending the Italian meeting.

Impartial observers at Genoa have been unanimous recently in stating that only the hope of securing the attendance of the United States either at Genoa or at the proposed conference at The Hague, had prevented the arising of an impasse. This hope was definitely removed in the reply dispatched by the state department Monday night to Ambassador Child, to a formal invitation preferred through the French delegation at Genoa.

"This government is unable to conclude that it can helpfully participate in the meeting at The Hague," Secretary Hughes cabled the American ambassador, "as this would appear to be a continuance under a different nomenclature of the Genoa conference and destined to encounter the same difficulties if the attitude disclosed in the Russian memorandum of May 11 remains unchanged."

The United States, Mr. Hughes continued, maintained its original view that "the ultimate question to be considered in connection with the European economic situation would be the restoration of the conditions of which must be provided within Russia herself."

Way Open to Further Parley

It was in his concluding sentence that Mr. Hughes apparently left the door open for further discussion of American participation in some effort to get Russia on its feet. That sentence said:

"It should be added that this government is most willing to give serious attention to any proposals issued from the Genoa conference or any later conference but it regards the present suggestions, in apparent response to the Russian memorandum of May 11, as lacking in view of the terms of the memorandum in the definiteness which would make possible the concurrence of this government in the proposed plan."

Hoover's Views on Russia

The administration view of Russian rehabilitation and our relation thereto was set forth in a significant address by Secretary of Commerce Hoover Monday night before the international chamber of commerce.

If America, the secretary said, is to consider financial assistance to Russia consideration must be given to the whole problem from a practical point of view, beginning with the following two outstanding facts:

"The first is that Russia is bankrupt. She has no productivity; her factories and mines, even where founded on Russian raw material and repairs, are producing but from 2 to 25 percent; her railways are transporting less than 7 percent of their pre-war capacity; her agricultural production is below her own needs; instead of the great national surplus she has eaten up her entire fat and can for a long time have nothing to exchange for the services of our

U. S. LIBRARIANS TO CHOOSE BEST BOOKS FOR RURAL SCHOOLS

Twenty-five to be Selected as Especially Suited for Country Children

CHICAGO, Ill.—The best twenty-five books for a one-room country school will be selected by the votes of several thousand librarians and teachers at the annual conference of the American Library Association in Detroit, June 26-July 1, and of the National Education Association in Boston early in July.

The winning titles will be announced after the conferences "in order that people everywhere may know what books are considered by librarians and teachers as most interesting and useful to children in the elementary grades," it was stated by Carl H. Milan, secretary of the American Library Association.

"A recent study of children's reading in one state showed that sometimes scores of children in a given district do not read anything but the textbooks; and that not infrequently there are no readable books in either the schools or the homes," Mr. Milan said. "In other districts school libraries are made up of discarded books from dusty attics or of large sets of books, in near-leather binding which nobody ever reads."

"It is the hope of the two associations conducting the contest that the selection of this list will serve to stimulate interest in good books for general reading, and to encourage the establishment and development of small school library collections. The desire of the organizations is to interest not only the teachers and librarians but also the school boards, trustees, public officials, parents and the children themselves."

MANIPULATED THE MOON

Scenery and witchcraft play an important part in the lives of the savages of New Guinea, and one of the principal difficulties of the resident magistrates lies in dealing with the sorcerers. For instance, one would be haled before him charged with some impossible crime, such as causing the moon to alter its course and color, with a consequent bad influence on the crops.

The magistrate would read the absurd charge to the sorcerer, with the remark:

"You have heard the charge of so and so; before I take evidence, are you guilty or not guilty?"

"Guilty," he would reply.

"Don't say that," the magistrate would say; "the evidence cannot possibly convict you. Plead 'not guilty.'"

"But I am guilty. I did it," would be the answer. "I should not be much of a sorcerer if I could not do a little thing like that!"

Then he would get a fine, or a few months' imprisonment, and thereby establish his reputation as a wizard!

INDIANS TO MAKE MOVIES FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN OF U. S.

Hundreds to Take Part in Dramatization of the Legend of the Totem Pole

CHICAGO, Ill.—What the totem pole means in Indian history and legend will be made clearer to the school children of the country when films soon to be made by the Society of Visual Education are thrown on the screen.

Early this summer on those far off islands lying along the upper coast of British Columbia, hundreds of Indians will take part in the unfolding of the legend surrounding the totem poles which travelers see in the Alaskan villages. This work will be under the direction of Prof. F. E. Froese, who for forty years has made his home among the Indians on Queen Charlotte and Prince of Wales Islands. The services of Prof. Froese were obtained by H. L. Clark, vice president of the Society for Visual Education, as the man best fitted to carry out this important plan.

Every part in the drama will be taken by Indians and drilling them for the ambitious work will begin in a few weeks under Prof. Froese's instruction. Two films have been arranged for and they will be produced purely from an educational standpoint for use in the public schools. While pictures have been made of the totem poles and of some of the Indians of that stormy region, it is believed this is the first attempt to put the meaning of the symbols into form understandable to the children. It is expected that both films will be ready for use by the opening of the schools in the fall.

Monks Rebuilt the Old Abbey

One of the finest churches in the West Country of England, Buckfast Abbey, Devon, built in the thirteenth century, became a ruin many years ago, but this has now been almost entirely rebuilt through the work of the monks who have made it their home. During the last sixteen years they have worked constantly upon it, laying stone upon stone, until the structure is almost completely restored. The stone alone cost $100,000.

The Flight of the Fly

A common house-fly gets through space at the rate of 25 ft. per second, during which time its wing makes 800 beats. When alarmed, its speed increases to 160 ft. per second. And a fly is not considered by any means rapid in its flight—for an insect! Bees and wasps can keep up quite comfortably with an express train, as you may have noticed when traveling. They fly along by the side of the window, endeavoring to get inside.

The New Paving Plan

WE KNOW of no city in which the plan of street-building proposed by Mayor Bentley has had a trial. But that is nothing against it. Every good thing has to have a first trial somewhere, and there is much in the mayor's argument that makes his suggestion look appealing. There is no doubt that since our system of street paving was adopted there has been a virtual revolution in the nature of our traffic. Streets are used vastly more by those who have paid practically nothing for the paving than by those to whom the whole cost of the work done in front of their property has been assessed. While this was always true in a measure, it is vastly more so since the automobile came. And auto traffic is so hard on streets that only expensive types of pavement can be laid.

The mayor's reasoning is that paving is a general utility, and that the city as a whole should pay for it as such. That tends to shift the burden from the small property-owner who has no automobile to the more fortunate who pay more taxes and usually use the paving more. We have already accepted the principle as it applies to street rebuilding and maintenance, in the city, and it has been the theory from the start in the case of state and county road-building. It raises the total of taxes considerably, but in most individual cases the increase in general taxes would be more than offset by the reduction in specific assessment for paving.

The only criticism that has been heard in any quarter, to our knowledge, is that the program outlined for launching the new program seems to prohibit the possibility of doing any street-building this year. Of course this is not an integral or vital part of the plan, and if the council wishes to adopt a more elastic method at the beginning it can be done with ease and without infringing upon the sound core of the mayor's proposition. There is, we think, a general feeling that the city of La Crosse is already so far behind with its street work that it can ill afford to lose another year if it is to keep pace with the rapid extension of building and population, and it is quite possible that some of the citizens who have been asking paving this year under the old system would prefer to go ahead with it rather than wait a year more, even though this may include some saving to them.

It has been pointed out that this could be arranged simply enough by the council, in adopting the new plan making an exception of which property-owners so-minded could avail themselves. It is by no means certain that any would care to take this opportunity, were it provided. The possibility of smaller cost the year following would probably go far to reconcile them to a year's delay. But since, if they wish to go ahead, there would be some saving to the city by limiting its expense for such paving jobs to the cost of street and alley intersections, the gate ought to be left open. It is, after all, a matter for citizens to decide after consultation with their pocketbooks, and if any think paving in 1922 at possible extra expense is worth more than paving in 1923 at a possible reduced rate, there seems to be no reason why they should not have their way.

Bugs

SECRET SERVICE agents, in raiding the offices of promoters of fake stocks and other get-rich-quick swindles, usually find a "sucker list." A "sucker list" is made up, for the most part, of names of "cream puffs," same being the name that swindlers apply to people who, in a general way of speaking, possess at least one share of every stock ever issued. A "cream puff" is sure-fire when baited by a share of stock beautifully lithographed in several colors. A "sucker-list" follows the name of each "cream puff" with a key like these: "Will give you the glad hand if you talk about his pet bug, fishing. Jolly him about his home garden." Obviously, these have a cunning appeal to the prospect's inner desires—the things he is most interested in, but to which, usually, he is too busy to give his first attention.

Psycho-analysts call an inner and repressed desire a "complex." For instance a man in a lifetime finds he cannot concentrate on his work. What's really wrong is that he has a "fishing complex." His subconscious mind wants to go fishing, ahead of doing anything else. Hence the conscious mind, befuddled by the subconscious desire, "has fishing on the brain." Naturally, he "can't keep his mind on his work." But if the man knocks off work and gets out his tackle and rods, a few days of angling will erase his fishing complex. He comes back, finds it easy to concentrate on his job—and is convinced that the change and the fresh country air "did him worlds of good." What really happened is that he downed his fishing complex by gratifying it. As a slangster would put it, he gets his fishing bug out of his system.

Psycho-analysts, in presenting that line of reasoning, seem to think they have found something new. But it is merely an elaboration of what was defined as "the suppressed function," years ago, by Sheldon, Prentice Mulford, David Gibson and other business writers who created the modern psychology of so-called scientific salesmanship. Nothing new under the sun—though hash does taste different from the original roast of beef. Have you a complex—a repressed desire? If so, appealing it to a moderate extent may do you more good than a barrel of medicine.

The wise boys of Wall Street, almost without exception, have found their hobby or "bug" and gratify it. The agents of some of them find the other fellow's "bug," and make him pay for it.

The "Punch" of Health

SOME political comment following the Milwaukee county conference deprecated the fact that there were sharp clashes, apparently due to conflicting ambitions of aspirants for republican nominations. Why deplore them? They are signs of health. Nominations which nobody wants give little promise of elections. On the contrary, keen competition shows confidence in the cause and denotes an expectation of success at the polls. The no-controversy conference is too often the bossed conference. Under the La Follette boss system controversy and competition are squelched in the committee room. The fact that conflict arises shows the free democracy of the gathering. That's what is going on in Wisconsin. For the first time in many years the people in all parts of the state, through their representatives, are getting together to thrash out differences of policies and personalities in order to get together in a majority opinion as to what is best for the state. Let the boys fight it out. The more kick in the convention, the farther the regular republicans will boot the ball over the goal posts in the September primary.

Perhaps the June bridegroom will swear off drinking if the June bride will swear off smoking.

Our prediction of the hottest summer ever is based on the fact that all summers are that hot.

The hottest public welfare fight in the history of La Crosse is peeping above the horizon if the organization of saloonkeepers, retail liquor dealers, brewers, cigar merchants, etc., which took place yesterday means anything. Over 150 men signed as members of the organization which had its inception in the recent activities of the public welfare league. The chief purpose of the members is to oppose any means that may be taken by the welfare league to close saloons on Sundays and at 11 p. m. week days.

"Take a Letter"

BY R. RAY BAKER

Dear Miss Lockwood:
Inasmuch as he deems of your employer, Mr. Wainwright, must automatically deprive you of your position as his private secretary, I am wondering whether you would consider a similar engagement with me? I am sure there would be no difficulty about the terms, and in case you feel favorably inclined you might call at my home, 783 Springdale, on Monday evening. Very truly yours,
ERNEST HUNTER.

Elizabeth read the message for the second time, and then looked about her neat office in the Wainwright home and sighed. It pained her to leave this place, where she had seen pleasant service for two years, but leave it she must, inasmuch as her employer had passed on.

Good old Mr. Wainwright! How kindly he had treated her, how considerate he had been, how tolerant of her faults! And what a relief it had been to serve some one who did not try making love to her! Three times before accepting the position with Mr. Wainwright she had been obliged to resign because of the objectionable attentions paid by her employers. Indeed, she had begun to wish she was less attractive, for it was proving a handicap to her business career. But Mr. Wainwright had proved to be the soul of propriety, and if he exhibited any affection it was patient.

"TAKE A LETTER"

When his letter came she had been looking forward with dread to a repetition of the distasteful overtures with sentimental business men. The epistle afforded considerable relief, for it was unlikely that Ernest Hunter, the celebrated writer, would stoop to such practices. She decided to accept the offer, provided terms were satisfactory, and there seemed little reason for doubt on that score.

This was Saturday, and on Monday evening she presented herself at 783 Springdale, to be admitted by a pretty-looking woman.

"I am Mrs. Clayton, Mr. Hunter's housekeeper," said the latter, "and I presume you are Miss Lockwood. Unfortunately, Mr. Hunter has been called away unexpectedly, but he gave me full authority to engage you, provided you wish the position. The duties will consist of receiving and answering mail and of making script revision, in which you will have the assistance of a stenographer. An applicant for the stenographic position is coming tomorrow evening, but the matter of rejecting or employing this applicant will be left entirely in your hands."

The remuneration proposed by Mrs. Clayton was beyond anything Elizabeth had dared hope, and she accepted the offer without further discussion.

"You will make your home here," said the housekeeper. "Your room has been prepared in anticipation of a favorable decision on your part. Are there any questions you would like to ask?"

"Only one," Elizabeth replied, "and that is: How did Mr. Hunter hear of me, and why did he offer me the position?"

The housekeeper smiled in her motherly way.

"He was well acquainted with Mr. Wainwright. They chatted frequently at the club and your employer was continually singing your praises. Mr. Hunter's secretary left about the time Mr. Wainwright died, so naturally you came to his mind."

Elizabeth lay in bed for some time that night speculating in regard to her new work. It would be so different from attending to stock matters, to which she had been accustomed in Mr. Wainwright's service. How many duties she would like to have! How many!

She spent the next day tidying up the workroom, for Mr. Hunter had not yet returned, and there was nothing for her to do. In the evening the applicant for the stenographic position appeared, and proved to be a young man of about her own age—a very blond young man with blue eyes, and well dressed.

Elizabeth had hoped to hire a girl stenographer, but this applicant was so pleasing in appearance that she decided to give him a trial.

"Take a letter, please," she said, and she directed briefly. He was quick and accurate, so he was given the position.

The next day a letter came from Mr. Hunter, announcing his inability to return home for several days but containing helpful instructions in regard to certain manuscript. Elizabeth and her assistant set to work and accomplished a great deal before nightfall. The program laid out was extensive involving at least a week's labor, so they were kept busy.

As they worked together Elizabeth and the young man, who gave his name as Carl Winters, naturally became well acquainted. They had their meals together, with the housekeeper presiding at table and during these periods of relaxation from their professional duties Elizabeth gained new insights into the attractive personality of her new secretary.

For the week had passed he had entertained her at a downtown dinner and at a theater.

This was some thing new in Elizabeth's life. Attention from an employer was unbecome, but from an employee they were not so undesirable, especially when the employee was an attractive young man. She began to grow fond of him, although she fought against it.

Perhaps her employer would not approve of such proceedings, but Mr. Hunter was not manifesting much interest in his new secretary. He remained away, while his instructions came regularly by mail.

Three weeks after meeting Carl, Elizabeth frankly admitted to herself that she was in love with him and one night he confessed that he held the same feeling toward her.

It was in the office, while they were enjoying a respite from the day's work.

"Elizabeth," he said, "I feel duty-bound to tell you that I am in love with you. Things can't go on as they are, so I warn you that I shall not be responsible for any actions if we continue working together and you do not promise to be my wife."

Her answer was a queer little smile.

"Mr. Winters," she said softly, "will you please take a letter?"

He prepared his not-book and smiled whimsically while he held his pen-cup poised.

"Dear Mr. Hunter," she dictated, "I have enjoyed my brief term of service for you, but I am obliged to resign, because I am going to be married. I am sorry that I never formed your acquaintance."

He made the notations, then surprised her by tearing the page to shreds, which he dropped into the wastebasket.

"Mr. Hunter declines to accept the resignation," Carl declared. "He desires that you remain as his private secretary—for life."

She stared with astounded eyes.

"I am Ernest Hunter," said the stenographer. "I loved you from the moment I saw your photograph. One day at Mr. Wainwright's home, I decided to make you love me too; but I detest the sentimental man who makes love to his employee, so I hired a man to do it for me. In addition to the ethics involved, I know now that you care for me, and not for my position in the world. What do you think of the idea?"

"Very novel," she said, "Why don't you incorporate it in a story?" (Copyright, 1922, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Uncovering Ancient City of Sardis

American scientists have renewed the work of excavating the ancient city of Sardis in Asia Minor. This work was commenced several years ago and was interrupted by the war. An advance party is now at work and Howard C. Butler, of Princeton, has just sailed to assume charge of the work. The temple of Artemis, which is claimed to be the third largest building of this kind built by the Greeks, has been uncovered. The city was at its zenith during the reign of King Croesus and was destroyed by an earthquake in 17 A. D.

BUY "REPEAT" STOCK SAYS BABSON

Statistician Classifies all Industrial Securities Under Three Heads

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass.—When asked for his selection of industrial stocks, Roger W. Babson, the statistician, today sounded a new note in recommending what he calls "the repeats."

"Manufacturing concerns are divided into three main groups," said Mr. Babson, "according to the nature of what they produce. These groups are as follows:

"Group one includes those concerns making products that are bought eventually by every person, but in small quantities. Coflins are a simple illustration of this group. For each of us one coffin will some day be bought. This is known as the essential group."

"Group two includes those concerns manufacturing products which only a certain percentage of the people buy at all and which only a very few buy more than once. There are hosts of illustrations of this group. Pianos, automobiles, yes, even garden tools are in the group."

"Group three includes those concerns who are engaged in the manufacture of repeat merchandise. The breakfast food people are an illustration of such manufacturers. You get into the habit of using a breakfast food and you keep buying it. The soap people are engaged in this repeat business. Such business is the most profitable both to manufacturer and to the investor. Industrial securities which are in the third group are generally recognized as the most attractive."

"One might think that the essential group is the best group in which to invest one's money, but a study of the situation convinces one that it is not so. Although some one is sure some day to buy a coffin for one of us, yet the coffin industry is a very easy industry to get overstocked with. Surely the sale of coffins can be increased very little by advertising, salesmanship, or any other means known to the most clever sales managers."

"Take salt," continued Mr. Babson, "salt is the prime essential of food, yet the clearest advertising in the world could not increase the natural consumption of salt. Although one might think it much safer to loan money to the salt industry than to the candy industry, yet a study of failure records show that the candy industry is safer than the salt industry. Although musical instruments are not essential, the demand for them can be increased to an almost unlimited extent. Hence, industries producing products of the second group are preferable to those of the first group."

"The third group, including those industries based upon repeating purchases, is the most profitable of all. The securities of the 'Gillette Razor' are a very good illustration. The Gillette Company can afford to sell a razor at a loss because of the blades they sell later."

"Another illustration is the Eastman Kodak Company. Eastman can well afford to sell a kodak at cost because of the great source of income in films and supplies. Another illustration is the phonograph. A piano would go in group two, a phonograph would also go in group two, but phonograph records would go in group three. The Victor Company has made its greatest profits on the records rather than on the phonographs. This fact is interesting when looking over the stock market, because you will see the most profitable stocks are those of companies like Gillette, Kodak, Victor, all of which come under this third group."

"Investors should not be frightened at the word 'Industrial.' A class of securities has its strong features and its weak features. No investments have a monopoly of all the good points. The wise investor diversifies, taking part governments and municipals, part railroads, part public utilities, part other classes. When, however, investing industrial securities select those industries that are based upon orders and where the market is more or less unlimited."

"Some people bank on monopoly. They will buy only into industries which have monopolies. Temporarily they may win, but the fact of a company's having a monopoly usually tends to make the company's stock and often ultimately brings disaster. The investor who depends on monopoly is playing a dangerous game. It is far better to buy in industries which have a great undeveloped field and which relies on orders."

"I certainly advise investors against putting their money into panics which manufacture products which do people harm. Statistics show that the greatest losses to investors in industrial stocks have come through such as brewery companies, for instance. They have been open for profit without regard to the welfare of the people. The price to be sought when considering an investment," concluded Mr. Babson, "is to be certain that your money is to make people healthier, happier, prosperous. When you invest your money, if you will try to companies, and at the same time companies profiting on repeat orders, you will make the greatest profits with the least risk."

General business has maintained the gain made a week ago to the index of the Babsonchart and is running at 15 per cent normal.

HEARINGS ON RAIL ASSESSMENTS TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

MADISON, Wis.—The tax commission will hold hearings on its preliminary assessment of railroad property in Wisconsin, during next week, when certain of the companies will be given an opportunity to enter complaint against the valuation of their holdings in the state.

Rail property was assessed at $348,000,000, which will yield a tax of over $7,000,000 to the state. The commission does not anticipate any marked reductions as a result of the hearings.

TELEGRAPH PROPERTY IN STATE VALUED AT NEARLY FIVE MILLION

MADISON, Wis.—Telegraph property in Wisconsin was assessed at $4,250,000 Tuesday by the tax commission. A tax of over $100,000 will be levied against the companies.

The bulk of the telegraph property is owned by the Western Union, holding valued at $4,250,000. North American Telegraph owns property assessed at $450,000 and the Chicago, Milwaukee and Lake Superior company at $125,000.

TAKES ON NEW LIFE WITH OPENING OF LAKE NAVIGATION

Stations Point to Big Increase in Tonnage Passing Through the Locks This Year

ST. MARIE, Mich.—With the opening of navigation for the season this city, at which is located the Soo locks, among the finest and most equipped in the country, has become a scene of great activity. At this point, shipping men are predicting a decided increase in marine traffic over that of last year, a dull year due to business depression. No such condition is expected this year, the tonnage passing through the locks broke all records, and increase over last season is predicted. The freight tonnage aggregated but 48,259,254 tons, against 79,282,496 short tons the preceding year. The season was the smallest in more than a decade, the season being depressed by shipping men generally as a result of a business standstill during the recent history of the season of 1918 established a record in freight shipments, 91,000 short tons passing through the locks. Figures include the traffic for the entire season, the locks being open since the opening of the border.

Michigan locks enable lake vessels to pass rapids in St. Mary's river and to proceed with but a short delay from the lower lakes to the superior or vice versa. One of the greatest features of the day during a normal season is the state of Michigan built the first ship canal here, completing the project in 1853. It consisted of two locks, arranged tandem, each with a depth of nine feet.

When came the Weitzel lock, 815 feet long, completed by the United States government in 1881. In the year the government assumed the project, the entire project, that time nationally prominent, was visiting the Soo declared that the Weitzel lock would be large enough to handle the greatest boats ever built on the lakes. Now the Weitzel is so small for 90 percent of the traffic and is used as a repair basin or drydock.

The Poe lock, 800 feet long and 100 feet wide was completed in 1896. This was followed by the Davis lock, 1,350 feet long and 80 feet wide, and the Sabin lock, of the same dimensions as the Davis.

The lock across the river in Ontario is of about the same size as the Poe. Vessels may be locked through the Soo in 25 minutes.

The American locks are surrounded by a beautiful government park, designed by L. C. Sabin, re-ent engineer in charge, who built the Sabin and Davis locks.

traffic through the locks in 1920 was three times the amount passing through the locks. More freight went through the Panama Canal for the entire year.

The cost of operating and caring for the St. Mary's canal and locks in 1920 was $164,000 which amounted to less than three mills on each ton of freight. No charge is made by the government for the locking privilege.

Cut Rates for Divorces
The British courts have adopted a new set of rules by which it is made much easier for poor persons to secure a divorce. It was heretofore essential to make a payment when instituting such suits, which was sufficiently large to prevent poor persons from taking the step, but this barrier has now been removed.

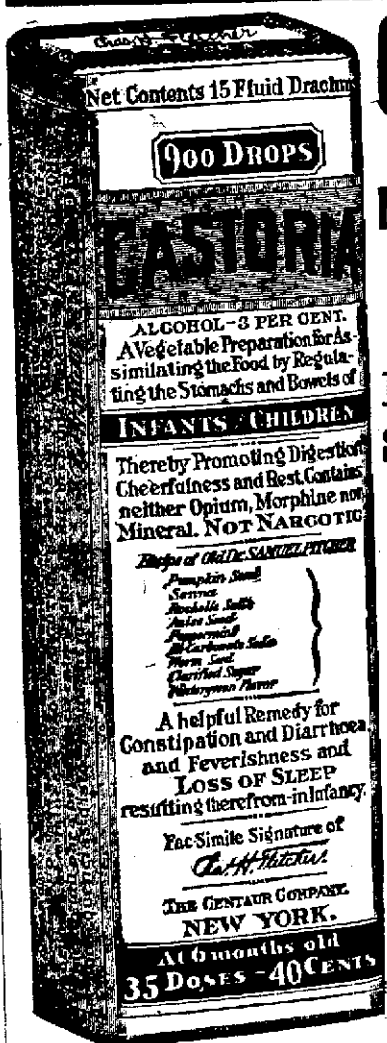

Nobody's Darling
One of the greatest penalties that can be imposed on a Hindu is that of being outcasted, as it means social ostracism. No man may eat with him, and his own relations will not permit him in their homes.

MICROBES THAT DEFY DEATH

Though some microbes are very tough and can stand great extremes of heat and cold, the majority of them are easily killed if the right methods are used. But what puzzled scientists for many years was that "killed" microbes seemed to be able to come alive again!

You could kill them as dead as door nails, but in a very short space of time, they would reappear in swarms and as lively as crickets! Then a discovery was made. It was found that many microbes bred by means of seeds or spores, which are almost indestructible, save by fire.

Experiments made with spores show that they do not in the least mind undergoing a temperature 400 degrees below freezing point for many hours. Nor does it hurt them to be boiled! That is why such a disease as anthrax, the microbes of which produce spores, is so extremely difficult to stamp out—no ordinary means of disinfection is of the slightest use.

LEGION POSTS THROUGHOUT WORLD LEAD IN OBSERVANCE OF MEMORIAL DAY THIS YEAR

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Memorial day, May 30, will be generally observed throughout the world this year, due in large part to the efforts of the American Legion, according to an announcement made at legion headquarters here.

The statement says: "Originally designated by the United States government as a day of remembrance for the fallen soldiers of the civil war, the observance of Memorial day has become a day set apart in memory of all Americans who died for their country. Although it has long been the custom of many southern states to observe a memorial holiday of their own on April 26, the tendency to a uniform observance has been apparent since the world war. The legion, composed of both the north and the south, officially adopted May 30 as its Memorial day and posts of the world war men on both sides of the Mason-Dixon line have, for the last three years, simultaneously honored the dead of the civil, Spanish-American and world wars."

International Holiday
"When the Inter-Allied Veterans' federation, made up of world war veterans of France, England, Canada, Italy and the others of the allied nations and of which the legion is a member, adopted the legion's date for the observance of rites for the dead, May 30 became an international holiday, comparable only in universal observance to Christmas. This year it will be observed by legion posts and allied veterans' organizations in the following countries other than the United States: Canada, Belgium, France, Poland, Turkey, Mexico, Argentine, Brazil, British Isles, Chile, China, Cuba, Guatemala, Japan, Peru, Porto Rico, Portuguese West Africa, Santo Domingo, Spanish Honduras, India, Venezuela and in the Canal zone, Hawaii, Philippine Islands and the territory of Alaska.

"As it did last year and the year before, the legion will decorate and hold appropriate exercises over the grave of every American who sleeps on foreign soil, as well as thus honoring the graves of American and allied veterans who are buried in the cemeteries of this country. Legion posts in France, Belgium, Poland and Turkey will visit old battlefields and adjacent cemeteries."

Many Yanks in France
The United States graves registration service has completed its huge task of returning to this country the bodies of 42,023 of the A. E. F. who died overseas, but 30,000 Americans still remain permanently buried in cemeteries of the allied nations.

"To finance the Memorial day decoration of graves overseas, each of the legion's 1,000 posts was asked to subscribe an amount equal to five cents for each of its members. A central committee of the legion in France will receive the funds from this country and have charge of decorating the individual graves."

"Several months before Memorial day, Mr. MacNider, national commander of the legion, sent each post a request that exercises this year be made as personal as possible. 'With this end in view,' Mr. MacNider wrote, 'the legion is ready to make special efforts to aid relatives and friends who think on Memorial day not so much of the whole army of the dead as they will of some one youth who went forth to fight and did not come back.' Gold star parents, desiring that special attention be paid to the graves of their departed, requesting a certain type of floral decoration or religious ceremony, were asked to communicate their wishes to the organization's national headquarters here, from which they were relayed to the legion post nearest the place of burial."

Honor Veterans of Other Wars

"The legion will not confine its exercises and decorations to the memory of world war heroes alone. The graves of all veterans of all American wars will be visited and decorated and fittingly honored. Last year the organization requested its posts and units of the legion auxiliary to seek out, in each community, graves of all American soldier and sailor dead and to prepare charts showing where such graves were located and how they could be reached. The efforts of the world war men have resulted in many graves of civil war veterans being rescued from obscurity and the graves of several veterans of 1812, long since forgotten, have been found and restored."

"A similar plan of keeping a close and honored watch on graves of Americans buried overseas has been evolved. There will be in France four principal cemeteries wherein men of the A. E. F. will sleep forever. At present a special Fine Arts commission is working on the project which will entail, for the collection of bodies and the beautification of cemeteries, an expenditure of more than $1,000,000. These fields of honor will be located at Belleau Wood, near Chateau Thierry; Bois de St. Quentin; Suresnes, near Paris; and Romagne, in the Argonne, near Montfaucon. More than 500 Americans will remain buried in England. A gift of land by the British government allows for the future decoration and care of these graves. Under plans already advanced a little cemetery for those Americans who died in England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales will be located at Brookwood, Surrey, England."

"This year still fewer of the proud, white-haired old heroes of '61-'65 will bear their colors and their flowers to the sacred ground where their comrades are in eternal bivouac. Last year the thinning ranks were filled with sturdy, tanned youngsters in their army drabs and navy blues who were honored to march at the side of the veteran patriarchs on their holy mission. The present Memorial day will find the hosts of Grant and Lee all but dissipated and as the youths of the world war strive for the honored files of the vanished procession, the day will take on a new significance."

FRENCH OPPOSE BILL TO MAKE INSANITY A GROUND FOR DIVORCE

Opponents Declare Judgment as to Incurable Cases is Not Infallible

PARIS. — The bill introduced in the Chamber of Deputies by Andre Tardieu and Georges Aimond making insanity a legal ground for divorce has met with considerable opposition. The bill provided that a husband or wife should be entitled to bring an action for divorce after the person to whom he or she was married had been detained for three years in a recognized lunatic asylum and if competent medical authorities declared ed the patient was mentally deficient beyond hope of recovery.

The measure is opposed on the ground that no physician is sufficiently infallible to be able to state that a case is hopeless beyond recovery.

Confirmed opponents of all changes in the French divorce laws are drawing distressing pictures of the "incurable" patient recovering and returning to the bosom of his family to find his wife married again.

Andre Tardieu, one of the authors of the bill was a member of the last cabinet of Premier Clemenceau and was French High Commissioner in America during the world war. Insanity was a ground for divorce in France 100 years ago. Germany, Switzerland and other countries it is considered legitimate grounds for divorce although they vary in important particulars in country.

UNION MINERS ASK RECEIVERSHIP FOR SOCIALIST PAPER

Dispute Over Suit Figures in Convention of Southwestern Miners

MUSKOGEE, Okla.—By The Associated Press.—Miners of district 21, Texas, Arkansas, and Oklahoma, in convention here, opened their session Tuesday with leaders on opposing factions predicting definite action would be taken in regard to suit for receivership brought recently by officials of the district against the Oklahoma Leader, a socialist daily newspaper at Oklahoma City.

The Leader suit is expected to precipitate a strenuous debate. The miners of the district own $10,000 worth of stock in the paper. In the receivership suit, district officials charge that stock in the Leader corporation was sold illegally and that the paper's affairs have been misrepresented. The Leader has supported Alexander Howat, deposed leader of the Kansas Miners, and is a vocal opponent of John Wilkinson, president of District 21.

The Leader question is expected to be brought before the convention when a report on the suit promised Monday by Wilkinson is made by Oscar Ameringer, editor of The Leader, was at the convention Monday and is expected Tuesday to debate the suit with William Wilkinson.

RAIL BODY TO FIX JURISDICTION OVER WIRELESS TELEPHONY

May 26th Date of Hearing on Refusal of Phone Company to Permit Use of Lines

TELEPHONE CONCERN QUESTIONS AUTHORITY OF COMMISSION

Wireless Merely in Experimental Stage is Claim

MADISON, Wis.—The jurisdiction of the Wisconsin railroad commission over wireless telephony will be determined by that body May 26, when a hearing will be held on the complaint of a local organization against the Wisconsin Telephone company for refusal to permit its lines to be used for transmitting messages to a broadcasting station.

Acceptance of authority by the commission in this case would give it the right to order the telephone company to carry matter to wireless sending stations. Their decision will be the first of the kind in the state.

Argument is made by the telephone company that the wireless is a practical means of carrying human speech in an established commercial value. It asserts that the commission has no jurisdiction over the company lines when attempt is made to use them for distribution of messages or speeches by wireless telephony.

NEWS COMPANY IS TRIMMED BY WILE BROTHERS, 3 TO 1

One of the best exhibitions by Juniors was given at Hixon Field Sunday morning when Wile Bros. took the News Co. into Camp, 3 to 1.

The pitching by both hurlers was excellent. Pierce, for the News Co. whiffed 12 men while Erickson for Wile Bros. dropped 9 of them. Both teams played air tight ball and it was only through base stealing of Kobitz that Wile Bros. scored in the first. They were then held scoreless until the fifth when Anderson connected for a double. Wile Bros. brought him in with another double and was caught at third trying to stretch the hit.

Klaus hit a homer in the sixth making the third and last tally. The News Co. was held scoreless until the 4th when Pretosky connected for a double and scored on Wartenbees grounder.

Score by Innings:
Wile Bros.100 011 0—3
News Co.000 100 0—1
News Co. Pierce and Skaff; Wile Bros. Erickson and Railing. Umpires Taylor and Marry Grubinski.

INDUSTRIES LIVE ON THEATER

The number and extent of industries that are dependent on the theater is not generally realized. If all theaters were to close at once, thousands would suffer thereby. Two industries which engage large numbers of people are those of the theatrical costumier and scene painter, but there are many others which are not quite so obvious.

There are several factories, for instance, which specialize in the making of tight or "stage bosomy," as it is termed in the trade. Tight can, of course, be purchased ready made but a great many "made-to-measure" orders are received, and special machinery is used for the work.

Then there is the manufacture of theatrical shoes. This is a very special work indeed, and there are comparatively few people who are able to make the satin shoes with stiffened toes which are worn by stage dancers.

Wig-making is an art in itself. An English company, going to tour America, carried with them no fewer than 2,100 different wigs.

GLASSES NOW MADE OF PAPER

Glasses, for submarine supports are now being made of paper in California, the chief recommendation of which is the fact that they are not subject to attack by the torpedo which ruins wooden piles in a short time. One long wooden cylinder a long roll of tarred paper with glued edges is wound and covered with cord. Over this another band of paper, much narrower, is wound diagonally like the bandage on a wounded arm. The cylinder is revolved while it is bound with more cord, hot glue being applied continuously. After three layers of paper have been put in place, the wooden cylinder is removed and the paper cylinder is reinforced with a coarse mesh.

A mixture of cement and sand is squirted all over the cylinder, and several cylinders are joined end to end with the same cement so as to make a pile 60 feet long and from 15 to 30 inches in diameter. A square steel head is fitted over the top to receive the shocks of the pile-driver.

A Dethroned King

At the age of 101, Hadji Tagiev, Bak's former oil king, ruined by soviet nationalization of his property, has started to rebuild his fortune where he began, as a stone mason. He is happy and optimistic despite his changed conditions. He acquired great wealth through his oil operation and lived in a palace which was seized and turned into a children's asylum. He tried to save some of his money by hiding it under a load of hay, but he was held up as he was crossing the border and the remainder of his wealth confiscated.

APPLETON MAN SHOT AND ROBBED MONDAY NIGHT IN MADISON

Accosted While Sitting in Automobile With Friend; No Clue to Bandit Found

MADISON, Wis.—A masked bandit shortly after midnight Monday night shot and robbed William Van Order, 37, Appleton, Wis., as he sat in his automobile talking with a friend, John Clark, Madison. A second shot by the holdup man, intended for Clark, went wild.

Van Order was robbed of $20 and a gold watch by the robber, who then escaped. The man had a handkerchief tied over his face, and neither of the men held up could give a clear description of him, other than that he was large and apparently young.

According to Clark, the bandit had approached the car in which he and Van Order were sitting, had mumbled a few words and then opened fire. One shot struck Van Order in the chest and seriously wounded him. The bandit robbed Van Order after his friend started for the police.

No trace of the robber has been found by the police.

workmen, or the savings of our investors. Therefore, if we would supply work, capital, and talent to the reconstruction of productivity in Russia they must be given upon credit or charity.

U. S. Entitled to Security

"Second, when our people are called upon to place their savings in such investments they will be likely to ask for security for repayment and evidence that there will be a return to productivity in order that payment may be made. We arrive at once at the primary consideration of those economic essentials that will make productivity possible and that will give security to investment."

Mr. Hoover said the Russian people are suffering chiefly from the destruction of their economic system by the soviets.

"Even outside the drought stricken area the Russian people are slowly dying," he continued. "They are being destroyed from inside of Russia, not outside. For they die from the destruction of productivity. The people are sick with war and terror their hope of relief is in evolution, not in revolution."

"Today the social pendulum is swinging back. Communism has been abandoned for a cross breed of individualism and milder but equally unworkable forms of socialism."

"It's Up to Muscovy Alone"

"Nor must communism or socialism be confused with the Russian people, for today the adherents to those beliefs in Russia have diminished to a very small minority. But whether the adherents are small or large, Russia must work out her own political and economic system."

"Our relationship to this problem must be predicated upon one basis only, and that is what will bring real assistance to the Russian people in this time of their greatest need. We could base help on sentiment which is charity. At best it is but a temporary expedient. We are providing charity in Russia today in a measure ten times all the rest of the world and we are saving the lives of ten millions of people."

"The solution can not be found in charity, for unless productivity is restored charity will be overwhelmed. Real and lasting help must be based upon cold economics or it will bring no real reconstruction or relief to Russia."

Hughes' Note is Quoted

Mr. Hoover quotes the Hughes note of March, 1921, stating "production is conditioned upon the safety of life, the recognition by firm guarantees of private property, the sanctity of contract and the rights of free labor."

"This statement sets no moral or political standards," said Mr. Hoover. "It is but the hard, cold, economic fact. It was made in a spirit of sympathy and interest in the practical welfare of the Russian people. Since this statement Russia has made some progress toward these primary essentials. But the fatal difficulty is that under even the present somewhat modified system both security and promise of productivity are insufficiently certain, and this certainly has to be made clear, not to the American government which is not a money lender, nor to the American banker, who is but a broker, but to the American investor whose savings are at stake and to the American merchant whose goods are to be contracted for."

"In the meantime, while Russia slowly swings toward the standards that we believe are vital to her recovery and to the point where it is possible to undertake her rebuilding, America has not been remiss."

Saving a Nation's Soul

"Before the next harvest the American relief administration under my direction will have expended more than $50,000,000 in American charity on the saving of Russian people from starvation and in providing seed for the next harvest."

"This operation will perhaps do more than save 10,000,000 of humanity from death. It will, through this act of charity, have saved the soul of the Russian people from an abyss of despair, too terrible for human expression. It is the visible evidence of the sympathy of the American people and our desire to help."

THE RATTAN CROP

One of the most important exports of Singapore is rattan, although it does not make a large showing as to value, being a comparatively cheap article compared with it. Singapore is probably the leading export market for rattan in the world, although most of it is collected from the islands of Sumatra, Borneo, the Celebes, and smaller islands. Ordinarily cut from the jungle by natives under the direction of Chinese merchants doing business in the interior it is bought up by large dealers in the principal towns and eventually sold to Singapore buyers in bundles as it comes originally from the jungle. The buyers in Singapore take the rattan in this form and put it through a process of selection and cleaning, after which it is banded together according to grade and shipped direct to various parts of the world.

INSTALLATION OF TWO ELDERS MARKS SPECIAL SERVICE

Rev. C. R. Shaver Delivers Interesting Sermon at the Presbyterian Church

The church, functioning through regularly chosen officials, becomes the trustee of heavenly glory," said Reverend Claude R. Shaver at First Presbyterian church on Sunday morning, in his discourse which preceded the installation of two new elders, G. M. Wiley and Martin Stenerson were then made full members of the session, which in this church is the governing body in spiritual matters. The text was Paul's message to Timothy, as quoted in the Revised Version, "The gospel of the glory of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust."

In part, the minister said: "The revised text places the emphasis upon the inspired of the message rather than, as usually construed, upon its subject matter. In other words the 'gospel' so called, is not merely 'good news' for the world but a revelation of the Supreme-Author, whose glory is thereby manifested. The church, having been entrusted with the message, acknowledges her trusteeship through her chosen officials, following her early custom; when it is recorded that elders were appointed in every city. It was through this simple form of organization that the 'glory' was manifested in the early church, which fact is our special concern this morning."

"Note that Paul calls attention to the Divine effulgence as appearing in a rather unusual sphere. We naturally expect him to follow the psalmist in recognizing that the heavens declare the 'glory.' But, instead, he finds it in the transformed lives of men who had come under the influence of this gospel. The young man Timothy addressed in the epistle was one instance. Paul's own remarkably changed life, mentioned in the context, is another. Each succeeding century has added radiance to this transforming power working through the church. We have not forgotten the vigorous young Syrian who stood here in this pulpit a few seasons ago, bearing witness to the changed life which he experienced after coming under the kindly influence of our Sunday school. He is now in South Dakota bearing witness to the transforming power of the same message which was entrusted to Paul and Timothy. Is it not worth while to become a trustee in such a life building corporation?"

Place Men on Honor

"But note also that this glory comes when men are placed on their honor, and not forced by fear or other coercive means. Napoleon and Caesar were recipients of glory resulting from the mailed fist of despotic power. But the call of the church has been a quiet appeal to honorable living and to helpful service. Holding before men the love of God, and appealing to their sense of moral responsibility, this unique authority has enlisted a 'noble army,' which in the language of the Martyrs' Hymn 'climbed the steep ascent of heaven.' So it is not to a trusteeship in a reformatory that you as elders have been elected; but to a fellowship, where men stand together upon their honor, and where spiritual forces of prayer and meditation are allowed fullest release."

"Can you conceive of another point in the entire universe where the Almighty is more likely to manifest power, save in this refining touch upon the lives of these superior creatures of his own image, which we call human beings. We recall that the creation narrative indicates that man was created in the image of God, yet we know that at first it is a very crude and imperfect image, marred by selfishness and ruled by sin. Most of the later scripture narratives are given over to this record of divine grace in perfecting the imperfect life which was started in the Garden of Eden. There, in human hearts, God is still at work today. His glorious achievement shines out in the mission fields of Point Barrow, far north in Alaska, in the jungles of torrid Africa, and in the remote islands of the seas. Wherever the Church of Christ ministers to imperfect, ignorant humanity, lifting up lives into fullness of hope, giving dignity to labor and exalting righteousness, there the glory is manifest. The teacher of a Bible class may share it. The Christian mother, denying herself comforts in her home, may impart it to her child."

Tribute to Mothers

"We recognize this second Sunday of May as Mothers' day; thereby paying tribute to the unselfish and wholesome spirit of helpfulness which mothers in our land of gospel light have reflected down the generations. Is not this glory greater than the spectacle of a sunset with its golden curtains, lined with flits of purple, and azure, and rose; as the poet might portray it. 'Greater wonders than these shall ye see,' said Jesus Christ, as he depreciated his miracles. And these wonders are the spiritual transformations wrought by that same old gospel, long ago entrusted to Paul and these fishermen by the Sea of Galilee. 'Whatever they have bound on earth shall be bound in heaven because the Infinite Spirit has wrought its own glory through the immortal fabric of these, and later, regenerated lives.'

During the service of the morning a moment of silence was announced for thoughts of "home and mother," which was followed by an appropriate prayer by the minister.

There is No H. C. of L. Here
There is at least one spot in the world where the high cost of living is not known. You can buy a live sheep here for fifty cents and a leg of mutton for a few cents. Eggs have been expensive lately at six cents a dozen, so the natives eat chicken which is much cheaper. This place is Zinder, and the only drawback is that it is located in the heart of the Sahara Desert.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply. For a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.

1922 FISHING BEST IN MANY YEARS SAYS CONSERVATION CHIEF

Trout Running in Greater Numbers, and Muskellunge Fishing Will be Good

MADISON, Wis.—Anglers will be attracted to Wisconsin streams during the next few months in unprecedented numbers to experience the best fishing season for years. Brayton O. Webster, conservation commissioner believes.

Reports from throughout the state indicate that trout are running through the streams and lakes of the state in especially large numbers. Early catches are reported by sportsmen to have been good, with assurance that the regular trout waters are well stocked.

The first of June marks the opening of the season for pike, pickerel, bass and muskellunge seasons in most counties of the state. Thousands are attracted to the state between that time and October to enjoy the fishing for which Wisconsin is known through the Middle West.

The conservation commission will complete its planting of 200,000,000 pike fingerlings by the end of this week, the largest restocking of this fish carried out in years. Adverse weather conditions are said to have resulted in a small batch of pickerel and of muskellunge.

Muskellunge fishing should be good in the northern lakes, according to Mr. Webster, who warns, however, that the state law prohibits a catch of more than two of these fish in a day, with a minimum size of 34 inches in length and 10 pounds in weight.

This law, he said, would be strictly enforced to protect this most sought for game fish in Wisconsin.

Restocking of the streams and lakes with bass will commence early in July. The season on this type of fish, which opens next month, should be better than for some time, Mr. Webster believes.

The fish division of the conservation commission is planting hundreds of millions of young fish in streams of the state to meet the demands of anglers.

OUR BRAVE WRATH OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY AT MOSCOW

Opposition to Policies of Radicals Becoming More Open and Daring

MOSCOW.—Opposition to policies laid down by the majority of the communist party has become more open and daring in Russia recently than at any time since iron-handed methods were inaugurated in 1918.

Groups, extremely small numerically and perhaps devoid of any power to change the trend of things, which formerly aired their grievances, if at all, in secret meetings and were promptly voted down, have recently, in several instances, surprised Moscow by coming right out in the open.

Principal among these was the group of 24 persons headed by A. Shilapnikoff, of the metal workers group who, disappointed with the return of capitalism and the apparent abandonment of communism, dared to make their grievances to the Third International. They were promptly sat upon and threatened with expulsion from the Communist party unless they obeyed discipline.

The two Menshevik and two social revolutionists in the Moscow society, generally timid folks, weighted down by the thousand or more communist or "non-partisan" fellow members of the society, plucked up courage enough the other day to speak right out in a big public meeting.

They merely wanted to change the wording of a resolution adopted by the Third International but the fact that they stood up and voted against the schedule plan, despite the hooting and jeering of the majority and in the presence of Leon Trotsky, war minister, and dozens of foreign journalists and diplomats attending the meeting, seemed something new in Moscow.

A WORLD IN A THIMBLE

Take a thimbleful of water from a stagnant pool. Place a single drop of this water on the side of a microscope, and a new world is opened up to you. One of the first creatures you are likely to see is the hydra, across in miniature between an octopus and a starfish. As it rests upon the stalk of a water plant its arms wave to and fro in search of prey.

Let a water-flea—the hydra's favorite food—touch one of them, and his doom is sealed. In a flash arm after arm enfolds him. Each is provided with hundreds of fine stinging hairs, and fight as he will the water-flea is soon overpowered and drawn down to the hungry mouth. The water-flea himself is one of the most beautiful of the inhabitants of this tiny world. He looks like a creature made of fine glass, for he is so transparent that you can see every organ of his body.

You can watch the action of the hairs which surround his head; these are in constant motion, and their action creates a current which sweeps into his mouth a constant supply of the plants and minute creatures on which he feeds. Looking through the microscope you can trace the passage of an atom of food right through the organs of his body. The heart is visible, and you may even watch the corpuscles of the blood as they travel through the arteries and veins.

White Spots on Wood

The white spots left on the wood-work after it is washed are caused by the use of soap, which is too strong. In cleaning woodwork, use lukewarm water and milk, soap suds or cleaning powder. These leave no spots and are good dirt removers.—Nonpareil Journal.

GREAT CONCERT IS HEARD BY CROWD AT NORMAL SCHOOL

Geraldine Farrar and Three Other Artists Appear in Note-worthy Event Here

By H. MARGARET JOSTEN
Hundreds of people filled the Normal Auditorium last night to hear the famous Geraldine Farrar. The concert was such a general success as well as a spontaneous interest aroused by the advent of a single musician. There was on this occasion a delightful festival air as well as one of high class.

The program was a bit of dramatic arrangement with a single purpose and that to heighten in every way possible Miss Farrar's peculiar charm. The program opened with "Intermezzo" by Liszt played by Mr. Malkin, cellist, very beautifully. He refused to respond to an encore as of course he did Mr. Gunster after his first group which so pleased the audience that it forgot for the time being what it was waiting for. Mr. Gunster gravely bowed his head, the house grew quiet, in appreciation of his performance. Miss Geraldine Farrar, so buoyant, so vital, so gracious and yet assured began to sing. From that moment until she left the stage for the last time she was the jewel for which the program setting was created.

Miss Farrar sang three groups of songs, each possessed of the elements of unity and contrast as well as of individual beauty. It would be impossible to choose among them and to say where her voice was displayed to its best advantage. Her keen dramatic sense seized the brief mood of each little song and made its swift, poignant poignancy real. Only once before was she just what everyone expected her to be and that was in her famous song from Carmen with which she concluded her program. That was utterly satisfying and his repetition would have been much appreciated.

Another lovely characteristic of the program for which one must invariably hold Miss Farrar accountable was the dramatization of spring both by Miss Farrar and by the program itself. Geraldine Farrar in the green and gold of a daffodil had as vivid and pulsing with life as the spring itself. The program iterated and reiterated the themes of spring, youth and love with excellent artistry and good psychology. It was a seasonal concert and at least a small measure of its success was due to its appeal to the quickened imagination of the audience.

Miss Farrar's company is made up of three artists. Mr. Gunther, the faultless accompanist, Mr. Malkin, cellist and Mr. Gunster, tenor. Mr. Malkin's rendition of the Hungarian Rhapsody by D. Papp was splendid. Mr. Gunster, true to his expressed idea against the mixing of songs sang (except those of narrative type) only songs designed by their composers for men. From "Morning" by Wolff to "Little Bateese" by O'Hara he found plenty of variety. Most exquisitely done was his interpretation of "A Dissonance" by A. Borodine. Mrs. P. L. Cilley, local director for the concert, is much to be congratulated upon her success. May she feel encouraged to bring many more as popular.

IONE KINGSBURY IS HEADLINER AT MAJESTIC THEATER

Ione Kingsbury, and her company, are the vaudeville attraction at the Majestic for the first half of the week. This troupe of dancers is recognized in vaudeville circles as one of the best on any circuit.

Miss Kingsbury and her male partner, execute a series of beautiful and difficult dances with an ease and grace of manner that earns the unqualified approval of the audience. Their repertoire of dances ranges from intricate acrobatic numbers, to acrobatic dances.

A third member of the company plays a piano accompaniment for the dances, in addition to entertaining with very pleasing harp and vocal solos.

Special scenic and lighting effects, and elaborate costumes feature the act.

CLEAR GROUND FOR CONSTRUCTION OF MEMORIAL UNION

MADISON, Wis.—The first step in preparing the way for construction of the $1,000,000 memorial union building at the University of Wisconsin will be made Saturday, when wrecking of the home of President E. A. Birge will start. This structure stands on the site of the proposed union.

WISCONSIN BONUS STUDENT IN BOSTON WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Kenosha Man Carried off Honors at Theological School and Will Study in Europe
MADISON, Wis.—One student receiving the Wisconsin educational bonus, Earl Marlatt, Kenosha, this year graduated at the head of his class at the Boston school of theology, and earned a scholarship for graduate study in Europe. E. A. Fitzpatrick, secretary of the state board of education, has been advised.

The young man says that he will be able to carry on his schooling as a result of the $30 monthly payment by the state, given him for war services.

Corns? here is relief Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

Put one on—the pain is gone

For quick and lasting relief from corns, callouses and bunions, there's nothing like Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. They get at the cause; protect against irritation and pressure while they heal. Zino-pads are thin, antiseptic, waterproof. Absolutely safe! Just try them once. Special sizes for corns, callouses, bunions—at druggists and shoe dealers.

He will receive the bonus while carrying out his education in Europe.

Kansas man's income tax is $4,000,000. Every Kansas renter knows what landlord it is.

DELIGHTFUL HAIR WASH

You can enjoy a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost, if you get from your druggist's a package of canthor and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and hair until both are entirely covered by the daintily perfumed preparation that thoroughly dissolves and removes every bit of dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing the hair dries quickly with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure.

DEATH RATE FROM FAMINE IN VOLGA LESS THAN FEARED

Predictions that Five to Fifteen Million Would Die Not Borne Out by Facts

MAJORITY OF POPULATION MANAGED TO WIN THROUGH

Endured Suffering that Would Have Killed Less Hardy People

SAMARA, Russia.—The Associated Press.—Only a complete, careful census of the survivors would reveal the exact toll in human lives of the Volga famine of 1921-1922, but, terrible as has been the death rate during the ghastly winter just ending, it is now clear to the observer that the great majority of the population has, some way or another, managed to live through it.

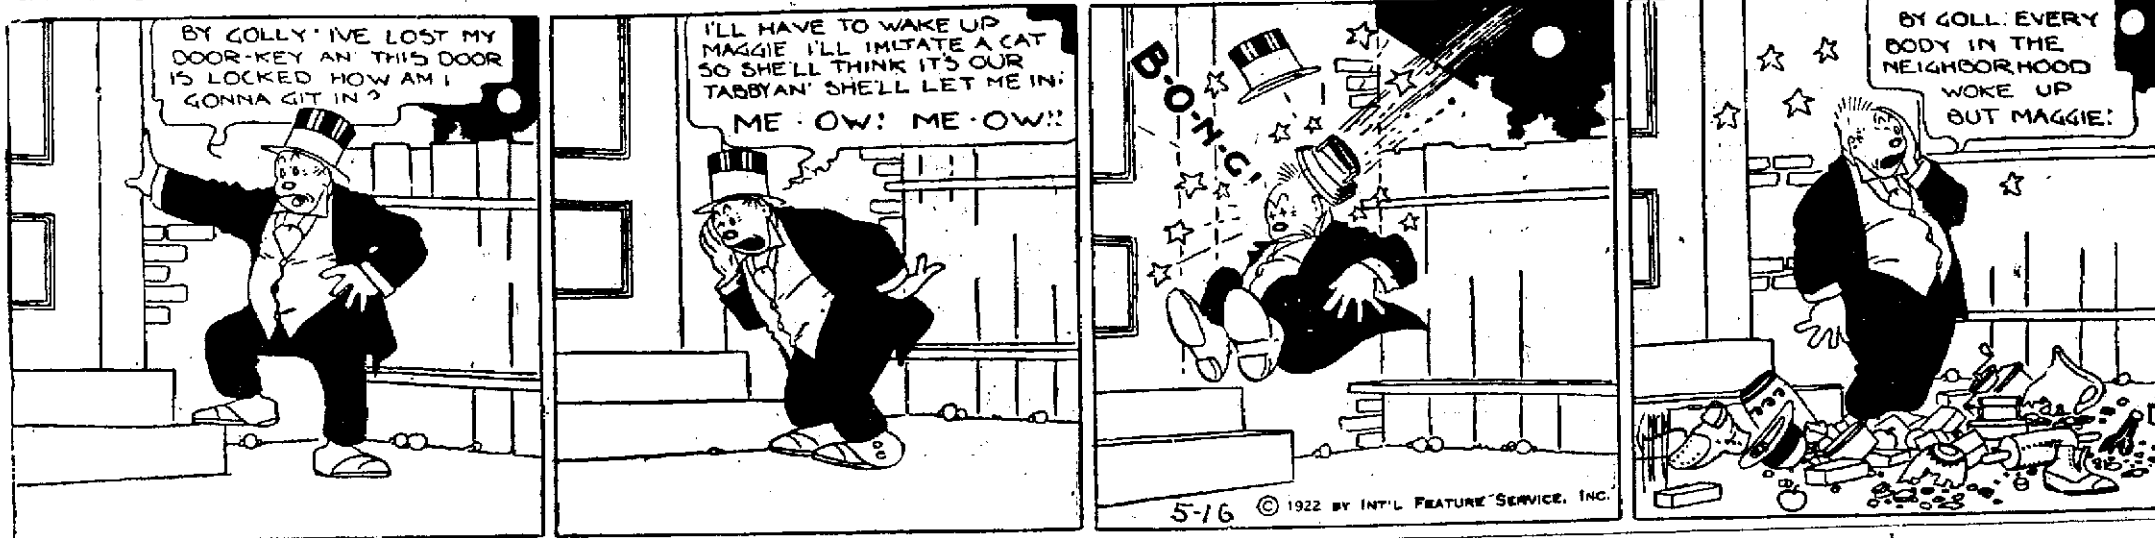

Estimates and predictions made last summer, that 5,000,000, 10,000,000 or even 15,000,000 of the Volga valley's population would die before spring unless fed from abroad, and that several millions would die regardless of the assistance then being rushed toward them, are not borne out by the evident facts that confronted the correspondent in a fortnight's trip through some of the worst affected districts at the worst period of the famine.

In some villages farthest removed from the railways, where cannibalism in some cases been resorted to by the hunger-stricken population and the general suffering has been almost unimaginable to the western mind, the death rate has been 30, 40 and even as high as 65 percent of the population. Famine such as this, however, has been the exception, rather than the rule, in Samara province.

Doubtless many thousands would have died in every "colony" or country, had not American and other aid been at hand for the children. The Soviet government as well as foreign organizations has assisted the local peasant authorities and has doled out its meager store of food in the communities which needed it most.

But it now appears that it was the very nature, physical and mental, of the Volga peasant that enabled him to live through a year of stomach-grawling hunger that would have taken much heavier toll among a population less insured to hardships from childhood.

Hundreds of thousands of them have died in Samara province which before the famine, had a population of 2,700,000. Perhaps the death rate has been 10 or even 15 percent, but the majority of the peasant stomachs have digested the clay, grass, weeds and other bread substitutes.

Even from the worst-stricken villages, the peasants who came to the railway stations driving camels, horses and oxen attached to sleighs to be laden with food for their children, as a whole appeared ruddy, strong and even smiling after a six-month's diet of atrocious bread substitutes that would have put an American city dweller in a hospital in a week and in the graveyard in a fortnight.

Some of them, more canny than the others, doubtless had saved and hidden real grain to last them through the winter, but the majority of those living underwent the age-old test of the survival of the physically fittest and were helped through it by their fatalism that taught them not to worry over their troubles.

KING SOLOMON'S MINES

The enormously rich mines of Ophir, from which King Solomon, the Queen of Sheba, and other rulers of Old Testament days, obtained the wealth of gold that made their cities places of dazzling magnificence, have, it is said, been found again, and are proving one of the world's most valuable sources of supply of the precious yellow metal.

The thousands of shafts which were sunk into these veins of gold-bearing quartz a thousand years before the Christian era and which have for centuries lain idle and forgotten, are fast being re-opened and new ones dug. Where armies of black slaves formerly toiled under the pitiless lash of the overseers, high explosives and modern labor-saving machinery now do the work, producing in a few years more gold than was possible by years of painful laborious efforts in King Solomon's time.

As archaeologists have found out, the land of Ophir, so frequently mentioned in the Old Testament, was a vast region in South-Eastern Africa—a part of what is now Rhodesia. Although the ancients worked the mines here for centuries, they were able with their primitive methods to do no more than scratch the surface of the gold deposits.

Dancing is fine exercise for every thing except the head.

At Kansas City, Kansas, an ownerless dog sacrificed his life to share the fate of his friend, a horse, when the latter was trapped in a fire.

SENIORS WIN FIRST IN ANNUAL TRACK MEET

Holley and Shepardson Star for the Seniors

The annual interclass track meet was held on the High School Athletic field Friday at 3:30. The Senior class captured first place with a score of 62 points. The Juniors were second with 21, and the Sophomores fourth with 1 point. Holley had the best individual record with 16 points and Shepardson came second with 14.

Because of the large number of entrants, the 100 yard dash was run in three preliminary heats. The first heat resulted in a tie between Murphy and Jorris. The second heat was won by Holley, Kilian taking second place. The third heat went to Cameron. In the finals, Holley took first, Murphy second and Cameron third. The time was 11 seconds.

In the 220 low hurdles Holley won first in 30 seconds; Harget second in 33 1-2 seconds; and Shepardson third in 34 seconds.

In the shot put, Lisecove took first with 29 ft. 6 in., Dunham second with 27 ft. 6 in., and Tobias third with 23 ft. 11 in.

The high jump was won by Shepardson, who cleared the bar at 5 ft. 4 in. Tobias and Dunham tied for second and third with 5 ft. 3 in.

In the half mile, "Ruck" Barnbaum won first from a field of twelve entrants. His time was 2 min. and 24 seconds. Harget was second and Hettlinger third.

Holley took first in the 220 yard dash in 26 seconds. Cameron came second and Zorob third.

The running broad jump had three trials and three finals, five entering the trials. The best jump in the finals was made by Jorris who jumped 17 ft. 10 1-2 in. Shepardson took second with 17 ft. 9 in., and Hettlinger third with 16 ft. 5 in.

"Ruck" Barnbaum took the mile in 5 minutes and 10 seconds. MacDonald second and Pierce third.

In the pole vault there were but three entries. Tausche, Jorris and Holley. Holley was eliminated at the 5 ft. 7 in. mark and Tausche and Jorris tied for first and second with 9 ft. Two extra trials were given but the tie could not be broken.

Hettlinger, Zorob, and Cameron placed in the 410 in the order given. Time: 1 min.

The javelin was won by Shepardson with a throw of 100 ft. 6 in. Harget took second with 98 ft. 1 in., and Lisecove third with 78 ft. 3 in. The discus was won by Lisecove with a hurl of 120 ft. 7 in. Dunham took second and Hanson third. Lisecove's throw shattered all former school records and gives him the record of the school.

The 120 yard high hurdles was won by Tausche in 22 1-2 seconds with Lutzshaw taking second place and Weisbecker third.

At 5:45 the meet was called and the relay race was postponed until next Wednesday at 3:30.

Next Friday a dual track and field meet will be held with Winona Normal and some stiff competition is assured the local team.

MAY PARTY GIVEN FRIDAY
The May party given in the Hixon gymnasium proved to be a successful affair.

The guests entered the south door and after leaving their wraps in the drawing room entered the gymnasium and were welcomed by the reception committee. In the center of the room stood a tall May pole. By fastening various colored streamers from the May pole to the balcony railings, a very pretty effect was achieved. The lights around the sides were decorated with tissue in harmony with colors of the May pole. All the benches on the sides were replaced by comfortable chairs.

In the middle of the evening a grand march was led by Mr. and Mrs. Hixon. Dancing was the feature of the evening. Bob's Orchestra furnished the music. Mr. and Mrs. Hixon, Mr. and Mrs. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. McConnell, and Mr. and Mrs. Wiley acted as chaperones.

"Good Roads" Essay Contest held recently in the Civics and Economics classes of the High School.

These three winning essays will be sent to Madison to the University extension division where they will be judged with those sent from other high schools of the state. The three best then will be sent to Washington D. C. to compete with those from all other states.

The winner of the contest will receive a scholarship with provides all reasonable expenses and tuition for a four year's course at any college or university he or she may choose. The value of this scholarship is approximately $4,000.

The judges of the essays of La Crosse were Josephine Hingren, Attendance Supervisor; C. B. Le Dahl, teacher of English and Thomas Reynolds, division engineer of the state highway commission.

"JULIUS CAESAR" HERE FRIDAY

The play "Julius Caesar" will be presented at the La Crosse Theater Friday May 19, by the Nota Bene Club, an organization of Latin students at High School.

The play was filmed in picturesque spots near Rome, Italy. All the scenes are as true to history as possible. The play depicts the life of Caesar until his death. Antony, who takes the part of Julius Caesar because of his marked similarity to the great emperor.

An exhibition of Roman antiquities brought from Italy by a former Latin teacher are being shown in various downtown stores. In the collection are two articles made by Latin students, the "Colossus at Rome," and a copy of Caesar's bridge across the Rhine River, which he built in order to take the Germans by surprise.

BAFFLING MYSTERY SOLVED

For some time the students of the La Crosse High school have noticed some peculiar fumes issuing from the chemistry laboratory.

I wonder how many students know the name and nature of this gas, how it is prepared, and from what materials? Ask any chemistry student and he will tell you this gas is H₂S or hydrogen sulphide, and is prepared by taking a small amount of hydrochloric acid to six parts of water. Add this acid to a small lump of iron sulphide, FeS, and we have as a result this ill smelling gas called hydrogen sulphide. The presence of sulphur in this compound causes it to have such an odor.

A Fair Trade

"That's a beautiful bus," said the salesman, all carried away with his own eulogy of the car. "Of course there may be some little thing that it needs, but that's to be expected."

The prospect looked thoughtful, then he brightened.

"I tell you what I'll do," he replied. "I'll buy the little thing you mention and you throw in the car. You see, I've bought a second-hand machine before."—Cartoons Magazine.

A Home-Made Cleanser
Street Peddler: "Here y'are, sir. Most useful preparation in the world. Only fifteen cents and one spoonful can take ten spots out of your trousers."

Henry Peck: "Hmpf! Don't need any. My wife did that little thing for me only last night while I was asleep."—American Legion Weekly.

Fox Farming
Fox farming produced a revenue of $1,240,000 in Prince Edward Isle in 1921. Approximately 3,000 pairs of breeding foxes are on the island ranches, and last year's increase in young was 7,500.

"WORK" DISCUSSED BY MR. O. M. SCHLABACH

Musical Program is Given by Miss Knudson

"Work is a royal highway to success and happiness and the only way to success and happiness that I know of," said Mr. Otto Schlabach last Wednesday morning in his speech on "Work" to the high school students in assembly.

This is the concluding topic of discussion in the character building campaign that has been carried on throughout the school for the last eight weeks. "This is a fitting conclusion to the campaign," said Mr. Schlabach, "as it is only through work that home and school responsibility, manners, the square deal, loyalty, honesty and service may be carried out."

Continuing, he said that men live by four things: work, play, love and worship and in order to really live, one must really work, as it is in work that one applies the things he learns. He pointed out the fact that to work does not mean scratch at the surface, but get way down to the bottom and find out what is there; not matter it is working a geometry problem, digging an inter-ocean canal, or writing a poem.

He told how great men like Edison, Lincoln, Henry Ford, Grant and Webster worked for years and accomplished things by the sweat of their brows.

As a leading attorney of La Crosse, Mr. Schlabach is well qualified to speak on this subject of "Work" and the students greatly appreciated his excellent talk.

Miss Louise Knudson delighted the student body by giving three piano solos and an encore. Her wonderful playing was a fine illustration of what work can accomplish. Her musical selections were as follows:

E. Minor Waltz—Chopin.
Nocturne—Greig.
The Sea—Palmgren.
Ben Edwards and Grant Olsen conducted the assemblies.

Increases the action of the intestines

Hundreds of men and women have already found freedom from laxatives by eating Fleischmann's fresh yeast.

Doctors are now agreed that prompt elimination of waste matter should be brought about by food. One doctor comes right out and states plainly that the indiscriminate use of cathartics is one of the causes of constipation.

Physicians all over the country are recommending Fleischmann's fresh yeast because it is a fresh food, rich in those elements which keep the intestines healthy. In one series of tested cases, normal functions were restored in from 3 days to 5 weeks.

Try it out for yourself. Begin today by adding 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast to your everyday diet. Keep it up and see how normally and regularly your intestines act. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer.

STEEL COMPANIES GOING AHEAD WITH PLANS FOR MERGER

Government Intervention Has Little Apparent Effect Upon Consolidation Plans

PLAN DETAILS OF LACKAWANNA PURCHASE BY BETHLEHEM FIRM

Involves No Violation of Federal Statutes Says Bethlehem Chief

NEW YORK.—The Bethlehem-Lackawanna steel merger was ratified Tuesday by directors of both companies.

NEW YORK.—Government intervention into the proposed steel merger has caused no outward change in the plans of the interests involved who have continued their plans for consolidation.

Directors of the Bethlehem Steel corporation and the Lackawanna Steel company were called into separate sessions to consider the purchase of Lackawanna by Bethlehem, which will be arranged by a stock transaction details of which were to be arranged probably late Tuesday. Except for a brief statement by President E. G. Grace of Bethlehem when the merger was announced, that it involved no violation of the Sherman or Clayton acts, interested persons have paid no comment on the action of the federal trade commission in requesting information concerning the same before the deal was completed.

The commission's action was taken as a result of a resolution introduced in the senate by Senator La Follette, who charged that the combination was in restraint of trade and that, together with the proposed merger of six independent steel companies was the result of a secret understanding with the United States Steel corporation. Thomas L. Chadbourne, counsel for the six independent companies has issued a statement denying that the six company merger was intended to effect a monopoly, or that it had any agreement with the United States Steel corporation. The only motive behind the combine, he explained, was a desire to lower costs of production, thereby increasing competition.

Presidents and chairmen of the six companies conferred today with representatives of Kuhn, Loeb and Company bankers, to work out a plan of financing the combination. This will be accomplished by an exchange of cash and securities and the reorganization of one of the larger companies or the formation of a new one. The companies involved are: The Brier Hill Steel company, Inland Steel company, Steel and Tube company of America, Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, Republic Iron and Steel company, and the Midvale Steel and Ordnance company.

MRS. SCHWALBE IS CHARMING HOSTESS AT TWO LUNCHEONS

ONE OF THE MOST delightful recent functions was given by Mrs. Frank R. Schwalbe, Jr., when she was hostess at a handsome luncheon on Monday at her home, 223 South Seventeenth St. The tables were daintily appointed, a coloring of purple and lavender being carried out by the use of sweet peas. The dressing of the rooms was also in harmony, great jars of lilacs and Ophelia roses contributing to their beauty.

Mrs. Schwalbe entertained again at a luncheon on Tuesday. Mrs. John Gile Paul of Watertown, Fla., who is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Burroughs, was an out of town guest. Sixty-five invitations were issued for each day. The same decorations were in use the second day.

MISS EDNA VALIER of Burlington, Vt., who has been visiting at the home of her father, Peter Valier, has gone to Seattle, Wash., for a short stay. She will return to this city before going east.

MRS. F. C. BEISEL, 811 Vine street, entertained the members of the Wednesday Bridge club at luncheon on Saturday. Cards were played, Mrs. A. R. Baldwin winning the favor.

MISS FLORA GUENTHER, 509 West avenue south, entertained the members of the Reading Circle Tuesday afternoon.

MRS. L. SANDERS, Mrs. H. Gibson and Mr. Don Johnson of Trempealeau attended the concert at the Normal school Monday night.

Y. W. C. A. MEMBERS, especially the gym girls, and others interested, are invited to attend a rally at the association rooms Tuesday evening to meet Miss Marie L. Hommedieu of Chicago, representative of the central field committee of the Y. W. C. A., who is in the city for a visit at the local association. Miss L. Hommedieu will speak at 7:45.

MRS. CHARLES MOSHER, 1833 Avon street, entertained in honor of Mrs. Fred Froument's birthday Monday afternoon. A huge bouquet of lilies of the valley centered the table, which was set for seven. The honor guest received many handsome and useful gifts.

THE WOMAN'S Foreign Missionary society of the Salzer Memorial church will meet at the church parlors Thursday afternoon. The hostesses will be Mrs. F. Stellingware and Mrs. Henry A. Worthington. It is hoped that every member will be in attendance.

THE NEW AMSTERDAM Missionary society will be entertained at the church annex Friday afternoon. Mrs. Harry Westerhouse will be hostess and Mrs. Byron Mulder is the leader of the program. A hearty invitation is extended to all to attend.

ON WEDNESDAY afternoon Mrs. Edwin Severson will entertain the Willing Workers of the church at the annex. The ladies are asked to come and bring their friends.

MISS CHRISTY DABOLD of Caledonia is the guest of her sister, Mrs. F. Stellingware.

A FAREWELL party was given Sunday afternoon at the George Grover cottage on French Island in honor of Sergeant "Hickey" Johnson. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Thomas Johnson, A. J. Weigel, Alfred Harnisch, George Grover, Arthur Johnson, Mrs. John Briedel, and the Misses Kathleen Weigel, Elsie Kreidel, Anna, Esther and Thelma Johnson, Ruth and Anabel Burmeister, Mr. William Schmuckepeter, William Gaze, Junior, Helen and Donald Weigel, Vernon Parrell and James Harnisch, Kenneth, Arthur, Alice and Laurice Johnson, Robert Briedel, George and Dwayne Grover. The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnson, Loyde, Edward and Garnet Johnson of Wilton.

Sergeant Johnson leaves soon for his post at Hampton Roads, Va. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Johnson, 414 North Sixteenth street. He has been in the marine service for 17 years, and has enlisted for another four years.

THE EXECUTIVE BOARD of the Service Star legion will meet Wednesday.

When does a man need a new hat? This by Barrie Payne ought to shed some light on the question: "We shall have to purchase a new hat. "WINTER GARDEN FOLLIES" SCORE BIG HIT MONDAY

Fastest and Best Musical Comedy Ever Seen Here

With dancing and prancing, singing and clever comedy talking the "Winter Garden Follies" at the Riviera Theater, Sunday and Monday, went over like a million dollars, and met with such a large success that the audience was loathe to have the actors retire at the grand finale. Never before has such a bright amusing and clever piece of work been presented here. The audience was over enthusiastic and gave upon sale of laughter and applause greeted these clever artists. Everyone joined in and had a real "honest to goodness" good time.

The trio was a sure fire hit. Three likeable chaps with plenty of personality sang three popular selections in a pleasing manner.

James Dooley and Max Golden, the old favorites were as funny as ever and there was not one dull moment while they were on the stage. Have you seen Max and Dooley dance? It sure is a treat worth while, and the goody chorus coming out into the audience on a runway was something new and nifty.

Tonight the feature picture will be "Sisters" the picture that has been making a stupendous reputation for itself in all the large cities in the United States.

If you want to laugh the blues away, see the "Winter Garden Follies" at the Riviera.

GIFFORD PINCHOT OUT FOR GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA

Interest in Election Centers in Nominations for Governor

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — Pennsylvania voters went to the polls Tuesday to nominate candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of internal affairs, two United States senators, representatives in congress and members of the state legislature to be voted for at the November election.

Of overshadowing interest was the contest for the republican nomination for governor between Attorney General George E. Altier and Gifford Pinchot, former state forestry commissioner. It was the first time in years that the republicans had gone into a primary fight without a recognized leader and there was widespread interest in the outcome. Alter's campaign managers declared he would be nominated by more than 200,000 majority, while the Pinchot backers said his majority would be at least 150,000.

There also was a contest in the republican party for one of the senatorial nominations. This was between Senator George W. Pepper of Philadelphia and Congressman-at-Large William J. Burke of Pittsburgh for the unexpired term of the late Senator Penrose running until 1927.

THE MAGIC OF MUSIC

A well-known doctor says that there is but little use in taking so-called "cures" for a "run down" or nervous condition. When one has been overworked their is nothing better for this than music. In music we have one of the finest tonics in the world to work wonders with those suffering from nervous disorders.

Even the performances given by amateur societies have been known to benefit jaded nerves, but the best results are obtained from high-class instrumental music played by those who have a wide knowledge of tone values.

If you are musically inclined, don't imagine that because you feel "fagged out" after a day's work that an hour or two at the piano is going to be too much "fag."

As often as not you will find that you will be materially benefitted, not so much, perhaps, because you have been playing particularly restful music but because the mind has been brought into direct contact with a diversion.

So if you are feeling depressed and your nerves jaded, remember that one of the surest ways of making yourself fit again is to go and hear some good music. There is plenty of it about today and the price of admission is surely worth a week of sleepless nights.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

THE IMPORTANT TOPIC BY BERTON BRALEY

We've talked of Doctor and of Wells, Of Conrad and the tales he tells, Of Tarkington and of a slew, Of other writers, old and new; But all the while I've thought, "Oh, gee, How big your eyes are—and how blue!"

So now let's talk of You and Me!

We've talked of "nappers, debs and belles" And modern problems quite a few; But this admission truth compels, I've thought of nothing else but you; And all the time my wonder grew To note how lovely you could be. Your beauty is a heady brew— So now let's talk of You and Me!

We've talked of sights and sounds and smells, Of California and Peru, Of how the crime wave swells and swells; And whether Freud is false or true; But I've been thinking of the hue Of lips that pout enticingly (You needn't blush, you know they do). So now let's talk of You and Me!

ENVOY

Princess, I have a nook in view Where we can sit and natter will see; We've skinned the other topics through— So now let's talk of You and Me! (Copyright, 1922, NEA Service).

JAPAN IS RAPIDLY ADOPTING AMERICAN GAME OF BASEBALL

Eager to Establish National Sport Declares Returned "Baseball Missionary"

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Japan is rapidly adopting the American sport of baseball, according to Herbert H. Hunter, former St. Louis National player, who has returned from his second year of baseball "missionary" work in Japan, where he coached the teams of Waseda and Koo Universities at Tokyo.

Hunter says that Nipponese are eager to establish baseball as their national sport, and are making efforts to form a professional baseball league of six teams. The two leading universities of the nation are sponsoring the movement.

The former Cardinal outfielder became interested in the work in 1920, when Prof. Iseo Abe of Waseda University, known as the "Father of Baseball" in Japan, asked him to come to Tokyo and assist in coaching the teams. Hunter consented and now is preparing to take a team of National League stars for a tour of Japan next fall if he can obtain the approval of Judge Landis.

He pictures the Japanese as apt students of baseball with a desire to learn all of its attendant "slang." The Waseda University nine, which toured America two years ago, caught many of the expressions common to the players here and adopted them, he declared.

In Japan, he continued, baseball coaching is done in the English language.

"It is very amusing to hear the catcher encouraging his pitcher to 'knock this bird off,' or advising one of his fellow players to 'crowd that old apple.' They have thoroughly assimilated most of the expressions used by American players.

"If baseball continues to advance with its present stride in Japan, I believe that we will be playing an annual international series before long. The Japanese boys do not equal our major league stars in ability, but several members of the Waseda team could make good in the minor leagues.

"Interest in baseball increases every year and I find that the higher class of people are taking to it. However, boys from all classes play their own little corner lot games."

Manager Rick of the Cardinals has agreed to give Hunter his uncomditional release so that he may spend the summer perfecting plans for the proposed fall tour of Japan.

Cooking Chicken

Old saying is, no one can eat a quail a day for 30 days. H. J. Jalmar, Baptist missionary in the Kongo, hasn't tested the quail theory. But he ate chicken three times a day for two years.

Don't pity Jalmar for monotony of diet.

Pity his wife, who had to plan the meals to make them attractive. She evolved 22 ways of preparing chicken.

No man has a task as difficult as his wife has, in planning meals. Doubt it? Ask her.—Austin Daily Herald.

Prince Likes Chewing Gum

English gum chewers have a splendid example to follow, for it is stated that the Prince of Wales is now an habitual chewer of "wax" and that he now puts a stick in his mouth whenever he is going to play polo or indulge in other sports.

During the war the army alone used 2000 cases a month and a good proportion of this amount is still being used by airmen today.

SWEDISH ACADEMY ELECTS HUMORIST FOR FIRST TIME

Comic Artist Admitted to Membership in Exclusive Organization

STOCKHOLM.—For the first time in history Swedish Academy, founded by King Gustavus III in 1786, a humorist and comic artist has been elected to that exclusive body. This honor has just been bestowed on Albert Engstrom, one of the most popular figures in Sweden, editor of Strix, a Swedish humorist weekly, writer of distinction, and the creator of some of the funniest cartoons and character sketches that ever came out of Scandinavia.

Two others were elected at the same time as Engstrom to fill vacancies by death, Tor Hedberg, poet and dramatist, until recently director of the Royal Dramatic theater of Stockholm, and Professor Frederik Boel of Lund university, one of Sweden's leading literary critics and essayists.

The Swedish Academy, popularly known as "The Eighteen" for its membership is limited to that number, was founded by its royal founder on the pattern of the French Academy, for the special object of preserving, purifying and elevating the Swedish language. Its motto is "Genius and Good Taste."

While most of its members are eminent in the world of arts and letters, its doors are open to those who have won great distinction in other spheres, such as science and theology. The late Professor Harald Hjalmar, the historian, and Oscar Montelius, the world famous archeologist, both of whom died recently, were members. Archbishop Nathan Soederblom, head of the Swedish church, is a member. Miss Selma Lagerlof is the only woman ever elected to the Swedish Academy.

Although Engstrom's admission to the academy marks almost as radical a departure from old traditions as that of Miss Lagerlof, the Swedish press and public as a whole rejoice that Engstrom has become "One of the Eighteen." Engstrom's popularity is based on his brilliant essays, principally on marine subjects as well as on his sympathetic sketches of the common people, sailors, fishermen, longshoremen and country types.

The Motor Vehicle Census

The motor vehicles of the country in 1921 totaled 10,448,632, an increase of 1,000,000 over the year before. This difference equals the total number of vehicles in 1913. The fees derived amounted to $122,478,654. There are said to be 10,000,000 such vehicles in use in this country.

Spinach Crop Flourishes

The spinach crop of this country has more than doubled in two years and the prices obtained have increased with the growth of the crop. Virginia, Texas and Maryland are the principal growers. California has dropped out of its lead in this field.

MELROSE HIGH IS WHITE HALL VICTIM AT BALL GAME, 7-1

Plans Made at River Falls Meeting to Reorganize Equity Live-Stock Shippers Association

MELROSE, Wis.—The high school team crossed bars with Whitehall high at the latter's grounds on Friday night, winning 7 to 1. Kubic served the day from a clean shut out, bringing Melrose's only run.

Many members and interested people attended at the Live Stock Shipper's Association at Black River Falls on Friday, May 12th. The purpose of this meeting was to reorganize the Equity Live Stock Shipper's Association. Ben Lang of Marshfield spoke.

The Wisconsin Highway Commission has had a caterpillar tractor raising State Highway No. 52 from Trempealeau County line to Melrose. On Saturday it completed the work on State Trunk Highway 108 from Melrose to the site of the new Black River bridge.

Contractor Northrup is working on State Trunk Highway 108 which is being covered with shale. When completed Melrose will have a hard surfaced road over half the way from the La Crosse County line to Melrose.

County Highway Commissioner Tibbitts is now attending to all the duties of his office in the absence of Mr. Overlin who is in a hospital at Milwaukee.

The Community was invited to enjoy a picnic at the Tourist's Camping grounds on Tuesday May 16th.

J. W. Polleys has been quite indisposed and has not enjoyed the best of health for some time.

Louis Lutz has just returned home after a week's absence.

This locality witnessed a regular dose of rain on Sunday.

The city council has authorized three 20 ft. spans of concrete to connect up with the new sidewalk additions to West Melrose.

John Ralston of West Indies expects to start up the saw mill on his place Monday.

Melrose has again now, a hotel. Sunday was Mother's Day and the Melrose Community Church had some inspiring music for the occasion.

A dance will be given at the Melrose Country Club next Friday evening.

Ryder and Stoker are the owners of a new truck to be used in their business.

SECOND THOUGHTS

In a certain island section of Florida a good many rough characters live, who are idle, quarrelsome, shift about a good deal, and hard to keep track of. One of them, named Tomlinson, was accused of robbery, and the sheriff went to arrest him. But Tomlinson "got the drop" on the officer, disarmed him, and kept him two days. Finally Tomlinson released the sheriff, and gave him back his pistol, first throwing the cartridges out.

Then the sheriff returned home. Tomlinson landing him on the main land.

"Well," the deputy asked his chief, "did you get your man?"

"No," the sheriff replied, "he's about the only man over there who does anything, and I thought I would let him alone."—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

The HOME GARDEN

What is Home without a Garden?

THE MAN WITH THE HOE SAYS—

With the development of the knowledge of gardening there is coming a great exposure of fallacy in regard to many phases of cultivation and one of these is as to the necessity of digging cellars under plants to be filled in with prepared soil. Many a man has been deterred from starting a garden by the labor he is directed to perform in gardening books and periodicals. A spaded depth of three feet is by no means necessary in preparing the soil. If one foot is well spaded, unless there is a clay subsoil, where deeper digging is necessary to allow for drainage and plenty of manure or commercial fertilizer used, good vegetables can be grown. It isn't often that a garden gets dug as deeply as one foot in its entirety. In ordinary good soil, a foot depth is sufficient.

Few vegetables send their roots further than a foot down in search of food, and then only when the upper soil is so impoverished it is necessary for them to do so. Manure buried so deeply that the roots are never likely to reach it does little good save to furnish humus and retain moisture.

Manure should be thoroughly and finely incorporated with the soil, to do the most good and become quickly available. Sprinkling commercial fertilizers thinly upon the surface and hoeing them in gives the plants the quickest growth, as gardeners now know. If this fertilizer were buried as manure often is, it would be valueless.

Don't be discouraged by directions to trench the soil. It isn't at all necessary in an ordinary garden. Experiments of rose growers have shown that the bulk of the ordinary hybrid tea rose's root system does not go more than a foot down, and it has been shown that roses in soil well prepared for a foot did equally as well as those for which the orthodox old-fashioned direction of three feet manuring and pulverizing had been followed.

The main idea to bear in mind is getting the plant foot where the plant can get at it speedily. This is the reason why liquid fertilizers and commercial manures get the quickest action. They go directly to the foot of the matter, which is the root of the plant.

WASHINGTON.—Representative Rhodes introduced a joint resolution authorizing appropriation of $2,000,000 for relief of farmers made destitute by spring floods.

SINGING SANDS

In various parts of the world there have been discovered sands that when rubbed together, or otherwise set in motion, give out distinct and sometimes quite loud notes. This sand, if stirred with stick, produces a deep note, which varies from a shrill whistle to a noise like the baying of a hound. A loud bell-like note arises when the sand is placed in a cup which is hit smartly with a stick. The first tuneful beach to be discovered in the United Kingdom was in the island of Eigg, off the West of Scotland. It is generally believed that the sound is due to the rubbing together of millions of grains of sand of a certain shape.

SPRAYING OF APPLE TREES IS URGED TO CHECK CANKER WORM

Loss of Thousands of Trees in Southeastern Wisconsin is Threatened

MADISON, Wis.—The loss of thousands of apple trees in southeastern Wisconsin over an area extending as far as Oshkosh is forecast by C. P. Norgard, commissioner of agriculture, unless the trees are sprayed as soon as the blossoms fall.

This condition is brought about by the appearance of the canker worm in large numbers throughout a large area of the state. Mr. Norgard says that spraying cannot safely be done until the blossoms have dropped but advises that steps be taken to check the pest immediately after.

County agents in some sections have already made provision to have spraying apparatus ready to use in the orchards, while others have borrowed city spraying machines for the work.

Alkali In Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

The department of agriculture urges that owners of trees cooperate to check the ravages of the worm.

Cheerful Minds

We are prone to think of contentment and happiness as things afar off which require much striving for, while all the time they may be close at hand if we will but keep our eyes and minds open. True entertainment means cheerfulness of mind and nothing can foster that more than little moments of happy contact with other cheerful minds.

BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED

"FARMING PROFITS IN WESTERN WASHINGTON"

WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO POULTRY AND BERRIES

—will be given by—

JAMES FULLERTON "Loganberry Jim"
Immigration Agent

CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE & ST. PAUL R.R.

AT

Yeomen Hall Thursday Evening
at 8:00 o'clock

Western Washington not only produces, on the average, more eggs per hen than any other section of the United States, which allows of course for greatest profits, but also does so at the least cost. As to production possibilities the following interesting figures are taken from a twelve months egg contest concluded last Oct. 31, near Seattle, where the 225 birds entered made an average of 210½ eggs per hen constituting a new world's record. Two birds in the contest laid 312 eggs each which exceeds the former record by one egg also made by a Washington hen. Seventeen hens laid over 275 eggs each and one hundred and thirty-nine went over 200 eggs each.

These remarkable records and many others just as interesting, which exceed from two to three times the average for the country as a whole, prove conclusively what our foremost poultry experts have long contended, that in Western Washington would be established the poultry center of the world.

The purpose of this lecture is to acquaint you with the reasons for the heavy production figures here mentioned; the extra profits involved due to low production costs; to show you the actual photographs of many of the poultry and berry farms of the district and to generally familiarize you, by means of a great collection of beautiful slides with this last and greatest section of the West which today is attracting nation wide attention.

Literature and information for those who cannot attend can be obtained by calling at room 239, Hotel Linker, or by writing Information Dept., Burke & Farrar, 203 New York Block, Seattle, Washington.

UPHOLDS RIGHT OF GOVERNOR TO PARDON IN CONTEMPT CASES

Justice Doerfler Dissents from Opinion of Supreme Court in Hans Rodd Case

MOTION FOR RE-HEARING NOW PENDING BEFORE THE COURT

Blaine's Removal of Sheriff Rodd Held to be Void

MADISON, Wis.—The right of the governor to pardon persons convicted of criminal contempt of court is upheld by Justice Christian Doerfler of the Wisconsin supreme court, in a dissenting opinion from the decision of the tribunal in the case of Hans Rodd, sheriff of Oneida county, whose removal from office by Governor J. J. Blaine was held to be void. Sheriff Rodd had refused to obey an executive pardon warrant freeing Peter Christ, Rhinelander strike leader, from serving his full sentence for contempt.

Re-hearing of the Case Has Been Asked

Justice Doerfler in his opinion discriminates between the two elements which may enter into a contempt proceeding: that of the injury done to the state by the violation of his order, and the damages which may be due the holder of a private right because of failure of compliance with the order. He holds that the public injury is of necessity of a criminal nature and subject to the pardoning power of the governor.

In support of his statement Justice Doerfler quotes the case of Gompers vs. the Buck Stove and Range Co., and declares that the doctrine in that case delivered as it was by the highest judicial authority in the U. S., recognizes the right of pardon for a commitment based on the public injury.

"The court cannot upon a conviction for contempt punish the contemnor criminally and at the same time and in the same order award the injured party indemnity. That would constitute such a blending of a criminal action and a civil action or proceeding as is not warranted by our statutes or of our court of procedure. Were that so the contemnor would be obliged to appeal from that part of the order awarding indemnity to the injured party and resort to a writ of error in order to review that order involving criminal punishment. Hence it is well said in the final order in contempt proceedings must be one thing or the other. It must impose criminal proceeding upon misconduct or enforce the civil remedy by awarding indemnity. It cannot do both.

"This decision is a crystallization of the judicial wisdom of the ages by the highest court of the greatest country in the world, and the writer considers it not only good law, but unanswerable. No vested property rights or interests have resulted from any judicial holding upon the subject of contempt, and we are therefore at liberty to adopt the reasoning in the Gompers case."

In conclusion Judge Doerfler says: "All criminal laws are designed for the protection of the people, and where a situation arises where a pardon or forgiveness of an offense is contemplated to produce the public welfare, such pardon ought to be granted.

"The power expressed in a pardon is the most sacred and God-like exercised by man in his capacity of dispensing justice on earth. The quality of Mercy is not strained. It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven upon the place beneath. It is twice blessed; it blesseth him that gives and him that takes; it is mightier than the mightiest, it becomes the throned monarch better than his crown; his sceptre shows the price of temporal power, the attribute to awe and majesty, therein doth set the dread and fear of but Mercy is above this sceptred sway. It is enthroned on the hearts of Kings; it is an attribute to God himself and earthly power doth then show likest God's when mercy seasons justice."

"This power has been vested in the highest representative of the people in the state of Wisconsin, who is answerable to his constituents every two years. Such power has not been abused in the history of this state. Courts must shine not by reason of any arbitrary power vested in them, but by their inherent desire to do justice between man and man."

RAFFLES OF EVERY KIND ILLEGAL SAYS STATE'S ATTORNEY

Gilman Rules on Plan to Give Away Automobile on Dance Tickets

MADISON, Wis.—Any attempt at a lottery in Wisconsin is illegal, no matter what the attempted evasion of the law, W. W. Gilman, assistant attorney general, advised George A. Hartman, district attorney of Dodge county, Wisconsin, in an opinion Tuesday.

This is the first suggestion of a proposed raffle received by Attorney General William J. Morgan, since his active attack on lotteries which last year were prevalent throughout the state. It had been proposed to give away an automobile at a dance, the tickets for which would hold a lucky number, the drawing of which would give the car to the person having this ticket.

"It is unlawful to sell numbered tickets for general admission to a celebration or a dance and make a free gift of an automobile to the purchaser and owner of a ticket of a certain number, such number to be determined by drawing," Mr. Gilman said.

"There is no method under the laws of Wisconsin whereby an automobile can be given to the holder of a ticket of a certain number drawn from a series of numbered tickets of admission to either a celebration or a dance.

"Whenever prizes are given the prize winner being determined by chance and there being a consideration paid for such chance, it is a violation of the anti-lottery laws. No amount of camouflage or attempted evasion can obviate this result. The mere fact that every purchaser of a chance gets something in value equal to the price paid does not affect the question where some one or more of the holders of the tickets receive more for their money than do the others, and the one to so receive more is determined by chance."

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—Matthew McBlain, Thomas Perret, Dominick Bergera and Robert Jamieson, officers of the American Masonic Federation, an organization alleged to have sold spurious Masonic degrees throughout the country, were found guilty.

90 per cent of all diseases can be traced directly to constipation!

And, you can permanently rid yourself of this dangerous condition by the daily use of a delicious, appetizing cereal—Kellogg's BRAN, cooked and krumbled! Don't let constipation "get away" with you or any of your family! Don't neglect such danger signals as bad breath, coated tongue, brain fog, feverish headaches, bad taste! No matter how slight the symptoms, FIGHT CONSTIPATION! It is deadly, once it gets its grip on your system! Physicians endorse Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, for constipation because it is nature's food and because it relieves constipation permanently. The only caution is to eat Bran regularly, and then the severest case can be combated successfully! Eat at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases, eat Bran with each meal! Results will astonish you! Bran causes no irritation or discomfort. It sweeps and cleans and purifies, leaving the eliminative tract in healthy, active condition that throws off the poisons and keeps you free from dangerous toxic conditions! You should know that Bran not only permanently relieves constipation, but is one of the most wonderful of foods. It is rich in all elements upon which the body thrives—mineral salts, proteins, fats, carbohydrates. Bran does wonderful work for children, making them strong and robust. Eat Kellogg's Bran as a cereal or sprinkled over your favorite cereal; its nut-like flavor is delicious. Or, use it in countless palate-appealing ways for baking and cooking. Buy Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, from all grocers.

Gentlemen:—It is a great pleasure indeed, to recommend the "WBU" to any one who desires the opportunity of receiving a first-class business education.

The courses offered are splendid, instructed by competent teachers who are willing to devote time and patience for the student in order that they may succeed. There is no success where there is no discipline. I find it in a right proportion that the "WBU" is the best and most service is excellent.

At the time when I decided to attend the "WBU," I had but a public school education. I enrolled for the Combined Commercial Course which is the most prominent of its kind in both stenographic and bookkeeping training. The office training included in this course familiarizes the student with the different principles that are required in the modern business office of today.

I have just accepted a position as Assistant Secretary and Treasurer, with the American Federal Farm Loan & Insurance Corporation, Neenah, Wisconsin. With a beginning salary of $50.00 per month. My work chiefly consists of bank bookkeeping, legal papers and stenographic work. I am very interested in the work, and the position offers a good chance for an investment. But, under the circumstances, had I not taken the combined commercial course at the "WBU," I would not be capable of filling this position.

I wish to again express my appreciation for the splendid work received while attending the school, and it shall be a great pleasure to me to recommend the "WBU" at all times.

Yours very truly,
JOHN J. NOVOTNY.

BADGER DEFEAT BY ILLINI LAST SATURDAY DENTS TITLE ASPIRATIONS OF CARDINAL
(By BOB DUNN)

MICHIGAN will have to be troubled by Wisconsin and Illinois in the remaining Big Ten encounters and Illinois will have to suffer defeat at the hands of some of the teams that are runners up for baseball honors if Wisconsin is to remain in the running as a serious title contender.

The defeat of the Badgers by the Suckers at Urbana on Saturday, 3 to 2, was the second of the season as Coach Lowman's men had succumbed to the Wolverines on their home grounds a few weeks previous.

Paddock Pitched to Win

The Illini defeat was a hard one to take as Captain Paddock had pitched his team to a good win over the same opponents on the week before. The hurling of Jackson of the Suckers, however, was too much for the Badgers who were let down with but four hits. Jackson struck out 14 of the heavy hitting Wisconsin batsmen.

Despite the fact that Wisconsin got off to a bad start when a pair of runs were scored at the opening of the encounter, they came back strong. They lost their best opportunity to tie the score in the second when Elliott, first man up, cracked the first ball pitched for a double and advanced to third on a passed ball but was unable to score as the next three up were easy outs.

Jack Williams led the Badger batsmen, getting two of the four hits allowed the team. Elliott got a double and Christenson garnered the fourth successful swat. The Illini met Paddock's offerings for eight hits.

After the first three innings, the game settled down to a pitchers' battle between Paddock and Jackson. Jackson had slightly the better of the argument and won the game practically single handed with his long list of strike-outs.

The loss to Illinois does not send the Badgers into the second division of the conference teams but it puts a big dent in the Cardinal championship aspirations. Every year for many years past the baseball honors in the conference have been fought for by Michigan and Illinois and it looks as though the battle will again be between these two aggregations.

Michigan and Purdue have suffered one defeat each but the latter is not looked upon as a serious contender. The Badgers have not yet met any of the stronger of the Big Ten teams. They still have to clash with Michigan and Illinois in a pair of games with each team. Michigan and Purdue remain tied for the lead.

Wisconsin was scheduled to meet Iowa at Iowa on Monday of the second conference tilt of the present road schedule which opened with Illinois. As Captain Paddock worked against the Suckers, Hoffman was on the docket to pitch against the Iowans.

ROD & REEL
DIXIE CARROLL

ON THE TROLL

After a few hours' casting, when your rod begins to feel like a piece of lead, just slip into an easy position and take a little whiff at trolling, besides resting up your casting arm and putting it in shape for a double-header in the afternoon, you stand a mighty good chance of landing some fine fish with the least amount of exertion up to the actual period of fighting the fish. Trolling is sure the lazy fisherman's delight and the fast man's preference.

Nearly all game fish can be caught by trolling, and after the strike it takes just a little bit finer work on the part of the fisherman to land his catch, due to the larger amount of line out at the time. There are quite a number of rigs that are good for trolling, and you can use most any kind of bait or lure. The best day for this kind of fishing is when the water is slightly ruffled by a breeze and the surface broken by small waves. This keeps the intended victim from seeing too much for his own good. An overcast or cloudy day also adds to the attractiveness of trolling weather, although many great catches have been made when the sun was doing his hottest.

The best line for trolling is the braided silk or linen, as the twisted lines cannot be used successfully on account of the kinking caused by the twisting and turning of the line, which cannot altogether be avoided. In assembling your rig for trolling, don't be afraid to use swivels; they help keep the line from twisting, in rigging up the spoon hook for trolling, which is the most commonly used, loop the line on a swivelled wire leader (a six or eight-inch one is plenty long enough) and at the end of the leader snap on the spoon, which for ordinary fishing for walleyed pike, or bass should not be larger than a No. 3, while for pike, pickerel or musky a No. 4 to No. 6 is plenty large enough.

Here's Your Decision

When a pitcher is announced to start a game, or is sent into the game to relieve some other pitcher, he must pitch until the first batsman is either retired or reaches first base. Then, if the manager of the team in the field desires to remove him from the game, he has such a right.

DAHL'S FORDS AGAIN VICTORIOUS, 13 TO 3 OVER KOLBO CLUB
Wiltinger Hurls in Excellent Style for Fords; Meet Reimans Next Sunday

Dahl's Fords came through with another victory on Sunday when they defeated the Kolbo Brothers club at West Avenue Junior diamond, 13 to 3. Both teams played almost errorless ball.

Wiltinger, hurler for the Fords, pitched wonderful ball while Voss covered the receiving end in good style. Christoferson, individual star of the Juniors last year and again this season, was knocked unconscious by a runner in making a spectacular stab for the ball. He recovered shortly and finished the game. The Fords meet Reimans at West Avenue field next Sunday morning and the La Crosse News company in the afternoon.

Score by innings:
Fords 010 135 021—13
Kolbo 000 003 000—3
Wiltinger, Grath and Voss; Banasek, Schmidt and Kabat.

PITTSBURGH—Traynor's home run over the left field wall in the tenth inning won one on June and one out for the Pirates on Monday. The Braves hit three homers on Monday, the first on a home run by Traynor in the ninth and scored runs in the tenth and eleventh. Traynor followed with the home run, winning for Pittsburgh.

Score:
Pittsburgh 102 000 001 1—5
Boston 000 000 000 0—0
Elliott, Miller, Gieseheger and Gandy; Gandy, Yellowhorse, Carlson and Mattox.

BADGER CREW MEN PREPARE FOR RACE WITH MANITOBA 'U'
Coach Vail's Men also to Meet University of Washington on June 12

MADISON, Wis.—Coach Vail is working his crew men every day in the week, to prepare his varsity eight which will row against the University of Manitoba at Madison on May 27. The University of Wisconsin crews will also meet the University of Washington crew here on June 12. The Washington crew expects to arrive in Madison around June 6th after the eastern races and will also train on Lake Mendota for their race here.

The Wisconsin Junior eight will travel to Chicago, Ind., on May 20 to meet the crew of the Culver military academy there. On May 27 the Junior eight will meet the St. John Military academy crew at Madison.

SOLONS GET LAUGH OVER NEW MATTING ON SENATE FLOOR

WASHINGTON.—The senatorial eye was hit Tuesday by the dangle of straw matting on the floor of the senate chamber replacing the sombre blue carpet which has done years of service. The first appearance of the summer floor covering caused senators to step gingerly and Senator Nicholson, republican, Colorado, to inquire whether "the straw colored floor was in honor of the farm bloc."

NEW YORK—Detroit made it three straight over New York, taking the last game of the series on Monday, 6 to 1. The visitors hit Sam Jones hard, while Stoner, a Detroit youngster, held New York to three hits. Three double plays aided Stoner in keeping down New York's score. Score:
Detroit 210 010 110—6
New York 000 000 100—1
Batteries—Stoner and Bassler; Jones, O'Doul and Schaag.

Red Sox, 2; Sox, 0

BOSTON.—Boston made it three straight from Chicago on Monday, when Warren Collins held the visitors to five hits, the Red Sox winning 2 to 0. A single by Burns with one out in the sixth, followed by a pass to Pratt and a wild pitch, which advanced both men, and a single to center by John Collins, scored both runs. The score:
Chicago 000 000 000—0
Boston 000 002 000—2
Batteries—Courtney and Schalk; Collins and Ruel.

Griffis, 3; Indians, 2

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Washington took the long end of its series with Cleveland by winning the final game on Monday, 3 to 2. Johnson and Bagby both were hit hard, but the former proved more effective in the pinches. Score:
Cleveland 000 010 010—2
Washington 111 002 000—3
Batteries—Bagby and O'Neill; Johnson and Piehich.

Macks, 13; Browns, 3

PHILADELPHIA.—Rounding Davis and Pruett for fourteen hits enabled Philadelphia to win on Monday the deciding game of the St. Louis series, 13 to 3. Aside from scattering the Browns' ten hits, Hasty made two hits, including a home run, which scored two men ahead of him in the seventh. Score:
St. Louis 002 000 100—3
Philadelphia 109 011 04—13
Batteries—Davis, Truett and Severeid; Hasty and Perkins.

SCHAEFER-COCHRAN START 1500 POINT 18.2 MATCH TODAY
Champion Favored to Win Because of Achievement in Beating Hoppe

CHICAGO, Ill.—Jake Schaefer and Welker Cochran will start play Tuesday night in their 1,500 point match for the world's 18.2 ball-line billiard championship. They will play three 500 point block, starting nightly at 8 o'clock.

Schaefer, the champion, is slightly favored by experts to win because of his notable achievement in winning over Hoppe twice, in the tournament, and again when Hoppe second in the tournament standing, challenged.

Both Schaefer and Cochran now claim San Francisco as their home, although Jake was born here and Cochran, born at Manson, Iowa, was educated here.

Willie Hoppe, for many years champion, and many other lovers of the sport are here for the contest.

WILLIE HOPPE TO OPERATE CHAIN OF CUE PARLORS

NEW YORK.—Willie Hoppe and his manager, R. B. Benjamin, on Monday will sign a ten year lease on a whole floor of the building at Fifty-first street and Broadway. In the fall they intend to open the first of a string of billiard rooms. The second probably will be in Cincinnati, and the third in Baltimore. Together with Charley Peterson, fancy shot expert of St. Louis, they propose to open rooms in many of the leading cities.

When Hoppe first retired it was his intention to open a string of rooms in leading eastern cities. Since he has enlarged his plans.

Hoppe and Benjamin left on Monday for Chicago, where they attend the world's championship match between Jake Schaefer and Welker Cochran.

Reds 6; Robins 2

CINCINNATI.—Cadeaux's wildness in the third inning gave Cincinnati a winning lead in the game which the Reds won from Brooklyn 6 to 2. Rixey was effective and great plays by Farrell materially aided him. Score:
Brooklyn 010 000 001—2

BOY SCOUTS GIVEN DOLLAR FOR SAVING LIVES OF THREE

CHICAGO, Ill.—A value of $1 was placed on three human lives by three men thrown into Lake Michigan Monday when their boat capsized. They were rescued by four Boy Scouts. None of them could swim. They refused to give their names, but one of them gave their rescuers a dollar.

ELROY TROUNCES PORTAGE SUNDAY SCORE OF 11 TO 2

ELROY, Wis.—Elroy handed Portage a stiff trimming here Sunday, 11 to 2. Bradley pitched a steady game for the locals and only for one costly error the home team would have played shut out ball. Shulin, local catcher, clouted two home runs, each time with the bases full.

PULLEN TO SEEK NOMINATION FOR LIEUT. GOVERNOR

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Dr. A. J. Pullen, Fond du Lac, former state senator and a world war veteran, will be a candidate for lieutenant governor before the Citizens' republican state conference June 1, according to an announced Tuesday. Riley Young of Darien, speaker of the assembly in the last two sessions of the legislature, announced his candidacy some time ago for lieutenant governor. Both candidates have promised to abide by the will of the conference.

INCREASE IN NUMBER OF BEE COLONIES IN STATE IS REPORTED

Winter Loss Among Honey-Producing Insects Reported Relatively Large

MADISON, Wis.—An increase of 2,000 working colonies of bees over last year is shown by the May 1 report of Wisconsin beekeepers, according to Joseph A. Becker of the Wisconsin co-operative reporting service. The total working colonies are estimated at 114,000 as compared to 112,000 last year and 81,000 in 1920. Winter loss was relatively large this year, the report says. It is estimated that 15 per cent, or 20,000 of the 134,000 colonies wintered, did not survive until spring. This compared with 5 per cent in the previous winter, 25 per cent in the winter of 1920-21 and a five year average of 12 per cent. Losses due to weak condition when put into winter quarters are estimated at 40 per cent, due to poor winter stores, 11 per cent, due to starvation, 27 per cent, due to lack of protection, 15 per cent, and other causes, 8 per cent.

The condition of colonies on May 1 is reported as 83 per cent of normal strength and healthfulness as compared to 48 per cent last year and 78 per cent in 1920. The condition of honey plants is estimated at 78 per cent normal, compared to 87 per cent a year ago, and a five year average of 91 per cent. Much clover has been winter-killed, and all honey plants are late.

Producers on May 1 had on hand 307,000 pounds of honey, 6.5 per cent of the 1921 crop, as compared to 516,000 pounds a year ago.

Average prices for honey about May 1 were: Wholesale, comb 26.2 cents, extracted 15.3 cents; retail, comb 31.1 cents, extracted 19.5 cents.

RUDOLPH VALENTINO DECLARED A BIGAMIST

Married Before Divorce Decree Was Made Final; First Marriage Still Holds

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—The marriage of Rudolph Valentino, screen actor, and Miss Winieta Hedner, motion picture art director, which was solemnized at Mexicali, Mexico, last Sunday, is void in California, and the bridegroom has made himself subject to criminal process, according to judges of the superior court here.

This condition is due to the fact that Valentino obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce from Jean Ackers, his first wife, on January 10, 1922, and that decree will not become final until next January.

In the meantime, according to the judges, Valentino is still married to Miss Ackers and therefore cannot legally contract another marriage in California or anywhere else. Whether Valentino would be disciplined by the courts was not stated.

Greasing the Trolley Wire
A number of substantial advantages have been derived from greasing the trolley wire. In the first place it prevents sparking, which is severe on the eyes of those who happen to be in the vicinity, and it also prevents much wear and tear on the wheels. The idea of greasing the wire is particularly valuable when applied to electric mine haulage. One greasing of the wire serves for five or six months.

In The MOVIES

SWANSON, VALENTINO—RIVOLI

Elinor Glyn's story "Beyond the Rocks," a starring Gloria Swanson, has scored an emphatic success at the Rivoli theater.

The story is one of Elinor Glyn's famous novel-romances, wherein Gloria Swanson, the wife, in a forced marriage to a middle-aged millionaire, falls in love with young Lord Bracondale. After a tempestuous and dramatic sequence, the story ends satisfactorily.

The settings and backgrounds are picturesque and faithful in detail. Striking roles are played by Rodolph Valentino, A. B. Francis, Mabel Van Buren, Gertrude Astor and other players of note.

The picture is a veritable Cook's tour of the most interesting places in Europe. Scenes show the famous gardens at Versailles, other scenes in Paris, shots in the Alps of Switzerland with intimate Alpine interiors and scenes in London. A mirror of London's social life.

"A WISE FOOL"—MAJESTIC
Motion picture fans who admire the virile Canadian stories of Sir Gilbert Parker will find much to admire in "A Wise Fool," George Melford's picturization of Sir Gilbert Parker's celebrated novel "The Money Master," which was shown for the first time in La Crosse at the Majestic theater yesterday. James Kirkwood, the featured player who heads a practically all-star cast of screen artists, portrays in excellent style the egotistical Jean Jacques Barbile a French-Canadian philosopher whose pride suffers a blow when he discovers that none outside of his little parish ever has heard of him, or the little world of which he is master. There are many dramatic scenes and the appeal of the story is irresistible. Alice Hollister, a charming actress, heads an unusually clever supporting cast.

STRAND TODAY

"I have worked for a living in a big city since I was ten years old, and consequently never knew the joys of village life," said Eileen Percy the William Fox star, while she was making village scenes for "The Tomboy," which is now being shown at the Strand Theater.

"I have had so much fun, so much freedom, so much of outdoor life in these scenes that I feel I have missed something by never having lived in a small town, in which everybody is nearer the same social level than in a big city—where you seldom know the people living in the same apartment house with you."

THE ONE BIG PICTURE OF THE SEASON

Pictures start at 7; Vaudeville at 9; Pictures, 10 to 11.

From the novel by KATHLEEN NORRIS
Directed by ALBERT CAPELLANI
Featuring Seena Owen - Gladys Leslie Matt Moore

Alix Strickland fought the hardest battle of a woman's life in her struggle to hold her husband—and her own sister was "the other woman." Within the walls of her own home an older girl, whose heart had starved for love, faced, fought and whipped her younger sister and held the man who possessed the key to happiness in her life.

"Sisters" is a perfect motion picture portrayal of one of the greatest novels ever written about marriage. It was a talked-about novel for two years.

Here, in its screen form, it represents the finest work of an all-star cast; the ablest and best work of a great director and the ablest technical achievement since "Humoresque" of a great producing company.

RHINELANDER MAY FORCE IMPROVEMENT OF NORMAL GROUNDS

MADISON, Wis.—The state board of normal regents may be required by mandamus proceedings to carry out the legislative provision for survey and improvement of property held by the state for construction of a normal school at Rhinelander, unless they act of their own accord. R. M. Hoyt, deputy attorney general, held in an opinion Tuesday to assemblyman J. D. Grandine.

Appropriation of $5,000 has been made by the legislature to plat and improve holdings of the state at Rhinelander. The board of normal regents, according to Mr. Grandine, has failed to use the appropriation. He was informed that either the general by direction of the governor might start proceedings, or that any citizen might sue to force the board to act.

Less Costly Dealing
"The portrait painter charged me $1,000 to do me in oil," said the man who had just cleaned up in the stock market. "You get off cheap," replied the man who had been on the losing side. "In the future I think I'll have my dealings with a painter instead of a broker."

You heard Farrar?

Then her records mean more to you than ever before. Her singing need not become a half-forgotten memory but may readily be a part of your daily life.

You can hear this great soprano as often as you wish with a Victrola in your home—the same superb art, the same distinctive personality.

The opening, which varied from $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ higher, May \$1.14 to \$1.16 and July \$1.26 $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ was followed by slight further gains.

On buying in which foreigners participated the market ascended $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. higher, which for the season. The close was unsettled $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent higher, May \$1.16 $\frac{1}{2}$ and July \$1.24 $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$.

Corn went up with wheat. After the opening $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ higher, July 64 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 65, the market scored moderate gains all around.

Oats started unchanged to $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ higher, July 39 $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$, and later advanced generally.

Provisions were elected but firmer.

THREE NATIONS IN KEEN RIVALRY FOR TRADE ON DANUBE

Austria, Czecho-Slovakia and Hungary Out after the Business

PRAGUE.—Keen rivalry for predominance in the Danube shipping is developing among the three-land-locked fragments of the dismembered
Hapsburg empire—Austria, Czecho-Slovakia and Hungary. The Danube river is their sea, and port facilities mean traffic and national income.
Hence one form of their competition is to build up their respective ports—Vienna, Pressburg (now called Bratislava) and Budapest, situated close to each other on a bend of the river.
With the prospect of a connecting canal system between the Danube and the Rhine through Bavarian enterprise, the Danube is coming to be regarded here as the greatest artery of trade in Europe of tomorrow and the British were aware of this when they founded their river syndicate.

The first struggle between the three ports was to get the allies' Danube commission. Bratislava won but the term was fixed for five years and the commission will next go where the biggest traffic is. This is spurring the Czechs to increase the traffic capacity of Bratislava to 1,000,000 tons this year and ultimate plans call for a capacity for 3,000,000 tons.

The struggle for trade thus far is mostly between Bratislava and Budapest with Vienna lagging. Hungary has granted a contract to a French firm to construct a first class port at Budapest and the Czechs are preparing to answer this by equipping Bratislava at a cost to the government of 28,000,000 Czech crowns. Czecho-Slovakia also proposes to build a subsid-ary port at Komarno. This work is to be completed in three years.

A private company has been organized to take over the shipping under the Czech flag on the Danube and Czecho-Slovakia means to keep the Danube commission at Bratislava.

ROMANCE OF PLATINUM

That platinum was first discovered in South America is not a matter of common knowledge. Nor is it generally known that the beautiful metal, which now is worth much more than gold, was once thrown aside as a worthless by-product.

Platinum is put to so many uses that it seems strange that Europeans did not know of its existence before 1735, when a Spanish traveler, Don Antonio de Ulloa, who had been appointed to accompany a French scientific expedition sent out by the government to measure an arc of the meridian and the plain of Quito, first visited the South American deposits in what is now the republic of Colombia. He called attention to the metal in his report.
When platinum became valuable,

so much of it was discovered in Quibdo, capital of the Choco district, where much gold refining was done,
that the entire town of some fifteen hundred inhabitants was turned into a mine. The natives were employed in working the streets for the government, and many property owners mined under their houses. Russia, however, has the greatest deposits, but they are not being worked to their capacity at the present time.
